Woman Was Agent For Area Union

Mrs. Sarah Herd Richens, 52, of Colonial Gardens, and her 16-year-old son, Frederick Lynwood Richens, a junior at Kingston High School, were killed Friday afternoon when their car skidded on Route 84 five miles east of Middletown and was in head-on collision with a tractor-trailer.

Mrs. Richens, business agent for the Kingston, Middletown and Warwick locals of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, was pronounced dead at the scene, Middletown State Police reported. Her son died at Horton Memorial Hospital, Middletown, about 5:30 p. m.

TROOPERS SAID young Richens suffered a severe depressed fracture of the skull and serious internal injuries.

Coroner Harvey Agnew of Orange county rendered a verdict of accidental death. An autopsy will be performed on Mrs. Richens to ascertain cause of death, it was reported.

Troopers said Mrs. Richens, operating a 1955 sedan, was traveling west on Route 84 when she skidded on slippery pavement head-on into a tractor-trailer, operated by George Cole, 32, of Succasunna, N. J. Cole was not injured, it was reported. The tractor-trailer is owned by the Natural Gas Transportation Corp. of Ledgewood, N. J.

Mrs. Estelle Benary of Highview Trailer Camp near Middletown told Trooper Frank Cleary that she saw the rear wheels of the Richens car skid to the left on hard-packed ice and snow, throwing the car sideways into the opposite lane directly in the path of the tractor-trailer.

Mrs. Richens, whose husband, Frederick, died about five years ago, had been business agent of area clothing locals for about two years, succeeding Mrs. Mabel Fisher Garahan who took an executive post in New York city.

Slippery city streets, made hazardous by the season's third snowfall, resulted in three accidents Friday and injuries to a Saugerties woman.

Mrs. Julia T. Mauro was reported in "fair" condition today at Kingston Hospital where she was admitted early Friday evening following injuries suffered in an accident at Prince and Grand streets.

POLICE REPORTED that Kenneth Bushey, 42, of 48 Foxhall avenue, notified headquarters at 6:30 p. m. that while driving a 1950 walk-in truck on Grand street and turning into Prince street, Mrs. Mauro stepped off the curb in front of the truck, owned by the Colonial Tire Co., Inc., 37 St. James street.

New Phone Cable Will Help Service Demands

New housing developments in some parts of Kingston's north section plus continued industrial expansion have combined to accelerate demands on local telephone facilities, and the New York Telephone Company today announced the start of another project to satisfy that demand.

During the next several months seven miles of underground and pole-mounted cable will be placed from the central office building at 11-15 West O'Reilly street to the north end of the city. Additional months will be needed to splice the thousands of tiny telephone wires contained in the cable.

IT WILL BE possible to place some sections of the cable in service before the end of this year but the bulk of the $176,000 project will be completed next summer. At that time some present equipment will be retired.

The additional cable will provide the telephone company with facilities it needs to take care of most requests for telephones and lines with fewer parties in the north part of the city and to allow for increased calling requirements in the future.

H. Bellswinger, construction supervisor, and H. A. Scheffel, supervising construction foreman, are in charge of telephone construction crews now engaged in placing more than a mile of underground cable from the central office to Albany avenue.

West Seeks Way to Let 18 Nations Join in UN

United Nations, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—The western powers searched today for some method of bypassing Nationalist China's veto threat and thus clear the way to let 18 nations join the United Nations.

Diplomats supporting the 18-nation package proposals urged the Chinese Nationalists to alter their decision to veto Outer Mongolia's membership bid on the grounds that such a move would torpedo the whole deal.

Russia has said that if Outer Mongolia or any of the other four Soviet entries fail to clear the Security Council she will use her veto power to reject all 13 non-Communist applicants.

Some delegates warned Nationalist China that if she uses the veto in the Security Council now it could cost the Nationalists vital support the next time Russia tries to seat the Red Chinese.

Informed sources said the Nationalists have taken this into consideration but still feel they must oppose Outer Mongolia as a Soviet satellite and companion of Communist China.

Some delegates were reported trying to persuade the Chinese to register their protest by walking out of the council during the voting on Outer Mongolia. They argue that this would not have the effect of a veto, but at the same time, would point up the Nationalist stand on the issue.

National delegate T. F. Tsiang gave little indication of compromise in his sharp speech yesterday. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Claims Firm Has Evidence Refuting Criticism of GM

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., has told inquiring senators his firm will offer "documentary evidence" which he says will refute dealer criticism of GM policies.

Curtice made the statement yesterday after he and other GM executives spent most of the day listening to dealer-witnesses.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said today senators studying GM operations "want answers to numerous dealers' complaints" and "still have lots of questions" to ask the company's executives.

The Wyoming Democrat is acting chairman of a Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee which is studying GM as an example of corporate bigness. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Ike to Lead GOP in Bid To Labor

Unionists to Hear Party Spokesmen

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—The newly merged AFL-CIO today faced an almost immediate struggle by leaders of the two major political parties for the support of its 16 million members.

Three 1956 presidential possibilities will address the unionists attending the first AFL-CIO convention here next week.

WHILE THE speeches are not billed as "political," they can be expected to reflect the Republican and Democratic philosophies.

The question is whether the Republicans can woo some of the traditional Democratic strength away from the labor movement.

The GOP will lead with its ace—President Eisenhower—in convention speech-making.

EISENHOWER, who may or may not be a candidate for reelection, will address the delegates Monday at 2:30 p. m. (EST) by telephone from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Democrats will get their chance later in the week to hold or strengthen their position.

Gov. Averell Harriman, a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, will address the convention Tuesday. Adlai Stevenson, an announced Democratic aspirant, will get in the last word with a speech Thursday.

The AFL and CIO completed their individual conventions yesterday, after ratifying the merger, and the delegates were marking time pending the combined session Monday in the 71st Regimental Armory on Park avenue.

Eisenhower, recuperating from his heart ailment, intended originally to send a written message to the convention. The telephone (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Eddyville Bridge Work May Be Started Monday

Repairs to the southern pier of the Eddyville bridge are expected to be started by the first of the week, according to a statement issued late Friday afternoon through the office of John W. Johnson, superintendent of the New York State Department of Public Works.

A spokesman for Johnson told The Freeman that in order to speed up repairs to the local span floating equipment will be rented from Island Dock, Inc.

Superintendent Johnson further added that steel sheets were being shipped from Albany to the bridge site at once and that they would be ready for use as soon as other materials and floating equipment arrived on the scene.

The decision to make repairs to the pier, which was damaged by the flood of October 15-16, was made at a meeting held in Albany Monday.

Following the conference in Albany, it was pointed out that repairs to the damaged span will take considerable time and the bridge will remain closed to traffic pending completion of the work.

Two canvass hearings at Catskill failed to give a clear decision either way.

Koblentz was reported to have filed the action on Friday. Robert Laffin and Michael Dobris, both of Albany, will file a separate action.

A DECISION must be arrived at by December 5 which is the final day on which county boards of elections must file final election canvasses, results with the Secretary of State.

20 Men Indicted in $20 Million Stolen Car Deal

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted 20 men on charges of running a million-dollar stolen car racket which authorities said was master-minded from a cell in Leavenworth, Kan., Federal Prison.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Howard Gliedman said Gabriel (Blah Blah) Vigorito, 61, directed the ring from prison where he was already serving a five-year term for car theft. He said Vigorito ran the racket to make money to pay his legal bills.

Vigorito, known as the "King of Car Thieves," relayed his order to the ring through his son, Sabato 37, who would come to the prison to visit him, Gliedman said.

Benson Farm Policies Get Good City Support

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—A review of early responses to Secretary of Agriculture Benson's appeal for the public's views on the farm problem indicate his policies may have more support among city than country folk.

Benson made his request on Nov. 23 and the Agriculture Department said yesterday he has received to date nearly 2,400 letters. The department said replies came from all parts of the country, from both city and farm areas.

THE DEPARTMENT said some wrote Benson they strongly approved his policies, others demanded he quit and still others voiced opinions somewhere in between those opposite positions. For example:

"The nation has long needed a man of your stature," wrote one person. But from another came the advice to "take your suitcase and get out of farming."

High Court Will Decide Hunter Vote

The winner for the office of town supervisor of the town of Hunter will be decided before a special term of Supreme Court at Albany. The case will be presented by Edmund A. Koblentz, Albany attorney and counsel for the Greene County Republican Committee.

The status of 13 disputed absentee ballots cast in the last election will be the deciding factor. Should the court rule the ballots legal and allow them to be included in the official canvass, Mansfield Showers, Democratic incumbent will remain in office and be declared the winner over his opponent, Edward Farrell, Republican candidate.

SHOULD THE court decide that all ballots are illegal due to the failure of six of their number to register, the vote will result in a tie. As absentee ballots are unsigned, the unregistered voters' ballots cannot be separated from the valid ballots.

House Leader Sounds Hope for '56 Tax Cut

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 3 (AP)—House Republican Leader Martin voiced belief after a talk with President Eisenhower today that the President will go after a second term "for the world's sake" if his doctors approve.

Martin also told reporters he hopes Congress can put through a tax cut next year that will benefit "the so-called little fellow." He said, however, this can be done only if the budget is balanced.

THE VETERAN Massachusetts congressman gave his views in reporting on a 45-minute conversation with Eisenhower, who then went into another closed session with Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California.

Martin stressed that his second-term views were his own. He said he did not discuss the question with the President. But Martin's opinion almost exactly paralleled the one expressed by Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall after a meeting with the Chief Executive last Monday.

Hall said then he thought Eisenhower would seek reelection "if he feels he is able."

MARTIN'S MEETING with Eisenhower was the first of two conferences the President called this morning with top GOP leaders in Congress.

Martin went into the President's office shortly before 9:30 a. m. An hour and a half later Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California was due in for a meeting that might just possibly touch on Eisenhower's second-term plans.

Martin disavowed any intention to talk of such matters. When newsmen asked if he might delve into politics with the Chief Executive, Martin replied whimsically:

"No, not I. I'm not in politics."

EISENHOWER ARRIVED at his temporary headquarters in the Gettysburg post office at 9:05 a. m., a few minutes before Martin drove in from Washington.

With the President were two of his grandchildren, David, 7, and Barbara Anne, 6. They were just along for the ride.

The youngsters came up last night from Ft. Belvoir, Va., where their father, Maj. John Eisenhower, is stationed, and went back to the Eisenhower farm today as soon as they saw their grandfather safely into his office.

Knowland had an appointment with the Chief Executive at 11 a. m. (EST).

Taber Will Fight Move To Close Sampson Base

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—John Taber says there is a "half-baked" move afoot to close Sampson Air Force Base next spring. He says he will fight it.

The Republican representative from Auburn said last night he had "definite indications" of the move. He did not say what they were.

In Washington, an air force spokesman said no decision had been made to close the base.

The spokesman added that consolidation of some basic training facilities was being considered because of a stabilized manpower level, a possible shortening of the time for basic training and an increased reenlistment rate. He noted that airmen re-enlisting need no basic training.

The Air Force has three training centers in the United States. The others are at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., and Parks Air Force Base, Calif.

Taber said he had spent most of the day at the base gathering data.

"This is one of those half-baked moves that originates in the military services every now and then, and I do not feel that it is a political move," he declared.

Taber argued that the nation needed at least one training station in a cold climate. He said the air force presumably would have to be prepared for air missions in the "cold north if we were required to stand off an attack which could come from the northwest."

He said closing the base would cause serious economic loss to central New York, particularly Geneva. The annual payroll at the base is 50 million dollars.

The directors of the Geneva Chamber of Commerce met in a special session yesterday to discuss the situation.

The air force has announced that because of the prevalence of respiratory illness in this area the number of trainees is being cut during winter months. After Jan. 1, spokesmen said, the period of basic training will be reduced from 11 to 6 weeks.

Sampson was built for navy training in World War 2. It is of temporary construction and supposed to last 10 years.

Missionary Society To Hear Guest Speaker
The guest speaker at the annual Christmas luncheon meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Rondout Presbyterian Church to be held Tuesday in Fellowship Hall at 12:30 p. m. will be the Rev. A. E. Huber, chaplain of the Convent of St. Anne, it was announced by Mrs. William Carner Cain for the society. Father Huber will speak on the theme, "On the Way to Christmas," and will show pictures taken by him on his trips to Jerusalem and the Holy Land. Friends and members of the society are invited to hear Father Huber. Following the meeting and address there will be a meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church.

Religious TV Programs
The Rev. James J. McQuade, SJ, head of the Religious Department of John Carroll University, Cleveland, Ohio, and star of the "We Believe" series currently being telecast over station WKNY TV every Sunday at 1:30 p. m. will discuss what Catholics believe about Sacraments on this Sunday's show. The "We Believe" series, produced by the National Council of Catholic Men, is designed to present the beliefs of the Catholic in an objective and scientific manner.

This week, in discussing Sacraments, Father McQuade says, "Now it happens that you are a very good friend of mine so good a friend that you have given me a whole book full of blank checks, all of them signed in your perfectly legal signature. These very cheap little pieces of paper have plenty of financial power. Catholics look upon the Sacramental system something like that. They are signed checks given to the church on Christ's tremendous account of divine grace in the bank of His Heavenly Father." Father McQuade briefly describes the nature and origin of the seven Sacraments with a special commentary on the Sacrament of Holy Eucharist.

Next Sunday, Father McQuade will discuss what Catholics believe about the family in the eleventh program of station WKNY TV "We Believe" series.

Trinity Church To Hear Address Of Noted Layman

ZEB B. TREXLER

Zeb B. Trexler, associate secretary for stewardship of the United Lutheran Church in America will address the congregation of Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets on Sunday at the 11 a. m. worship service. He will be introduced by Fred Lindemann, a prominent Lutheran layman.

Mr. Trexler is known throughout the United States and Canada as one of the most active laymen in the stewardship movement of the Lutheran Church. He has traveled in almost every corner of the United States and Canada to talk with men and women about Christian stewardship. Mr. Trexler was an automobile sales executive for 20 years before he decided to give full time to work of the church. He was field secretary of Lenox Rhyne College, Hickory, N. C. During the past seven years he has traveled more than 300,000 miles in 48 states and provinces in the United States and Canada. He is also a member of the Board of Publication of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Henry Endress, the United Lutheran stewardship secretary, says of him, "Zeb Trexler is distinctly one of our outstanding lay leaders of the church. That was demonstrated by the record he made in the North Carolina Synod. Under his leadership the Lutheran Brotherhoods raised a $100,000 church extension fund. He has a genius for organization and is giving this same high type of leadership to the stewardship of the whole church."

The pastor, the Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, DD, will conduct the service.

Your Life And Mine

By Clyde Herbert Snell

THE GREATEST LIFTS

What gives us the greatest lift when we are discouraged and downcast? Men "things" do not have much relevance to such problems. If it were possible to give every discouraged person in this wide world a Cadillac convertible; (should you hear of any such plan, I beg to inform you that I can manage to get discouraged in almost no time flat!) that still would not lessen by very much the burden of discouragement that is in the world this very day. Cadillac don't have much bearing on discouragement and loneliness—and their kind. One little telephone conversation with a familiar voice on the other end of the line will do more to relieve loneliness than a whole stadium full of shiny new Cadillacs.

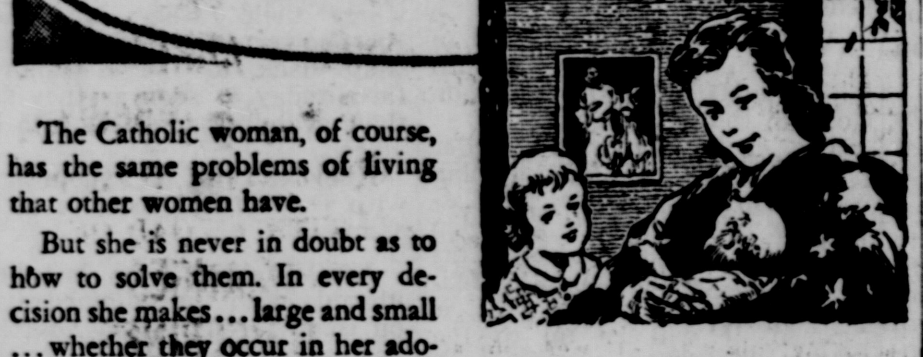

Do you recall the moral that is shaped at the end of Aesop's fable about "The Lion and the Mouse?" "Little friends may prove great friends." And it is also true that the biggest lifts to help us with our particular burden of life come from small things. A kind word spoken at a moment when we needed desperately its cheer, a thoughtful deed done by a neighbor or a friend at a time when we had almost surrendered to the idea that nobody cared about our burden—these are the things that count in the struggle of life. They give us the lifts we need.

It is important to note that one does not have to be a Hercules in order to provide assistance on another's load of life. Thoreau says somewhere that "ofttimes the sick man is nurse to the sound." It's true. The cheer and patience and optimism of the sick are often like a spring tonic to the sagging spirits of those who have no affliction. The healthy are sometimes "doctored" by the ill. Those who are heavily burdened sometimes lift far more than they realize because of the spirit in which they bear their own trials.

High-chairs work many miracles in homes. Little ones perk parental spirits up. The cheer they provide is all out of proportion to their size. A smile from some little fellow in a high-chair will make a tired father forget his business worries and restore again, in the magic of an instant, that precious inner feeling that life is worth while. And the beautiful secret which nests so gracefully in the whole miraculous accomplishment is that the little fellow in the high-chair, who works all of this transformation in his father's heart, never even faintly surmises what a tremendous lift he has provided on that parental load.

Such is the eternal secret of the greatest lifts we receive—and give.

The CATHOLIC Woman Is Never In Doubt!

The Catholic woman, of course, has the same problems of living that other women have. But she is never in doubt as to how to solve them. In every decision she makes...large and small...whether they occur in her adolescence or later on as a wife and mother...she can use the clearly defined principles of her Catholic Faith. Some will say that this is a form of "thought control" to which they would not submit. By the same reasoning, the Bible with its strict commandments guiding human behavior might also be called a form of thought control.

Women generally, of course, are opposed to divorce. Many of them regard it as a grave social evil. Catholic women not only share this view, but know that according to God's law, divorce with remarriage is a serious sin.

Catholic women may be tempted, at times, unlawfully to limit the number of their children to fit the family income. But the Church

Agents Arrest John Kendrick, One of 10 Wanted

Chicago, Dec. 3 (AP)—John Kendrick, 58, one of the FBI's 10-most-wanted men who has served most of the last 32 years in prisons, was arrested by FBI agents in a Loop hotel last night.

Kendrick, identified by FBI agents as a "hardened gunman" involved in a number of shootings and with a record of escapes from two prisons, was not armed when arrested.

Donald S. Hostetter, FBI agent in charge of the Chicago office, said Kendrick refused to admit his identity, claiming he was simply "Mr. None." He was not registered at the hotel, which Hostetter declined to identify.

Hostetter said Kendrick, who had served seven years in Alcatraz Prison, was wanted in connection with the shooting of George A. Cline, of Washington, D. C., in a robbery attempt in December, 1954. He also was wanted for violating terms of his conditional release from Leavenworth Penitentiary in March, 1954.

Kendrick was held in the central police station pending arraignment later today before the U. S. court commissioner.

Hostetter said Kendrick, who was added to the 10-most-wanted list on Nov. 2, had been involved in crime since 1923 when he was sentenced to 6½ years in Maryland State Penitentiary for larceny and assault.

Civil War Veteran

William McKinley enlisted as a private in the Civil War and came out as a major. He was the last President to have served in that war.

Unusual Drinker

In drinking, a pigeon immerses its bill to the nostril and draws in the water in a continuous draft. So far as anyone knows, no other bird drinks in this manner.

Local Death Record

Mrs. Marguerite Hutton
Mrs. Marguerite A. Hutton of 297 Hasbrouck avenue died at her home Friday following an illness of nearly a year. Mrs. Hutton was born in Germany, a daughter of the late Henry and Catherine Ruth Breckman. She came to this country at the age of two and has lived in Kingston for about 70 years. Mrs. Hutton was the widow of William B. Hutton who died several years ago. She is survived by two sons, Charles W. of Port Ewen, LeRoy of Kingston, a grandson William Hutton of Hurley, two sisters Mrs. Herbert Finley of Tannersville and Mrs. Sherman Higgins of Kingston. Two great grandchildren also survive. Mrs. Hutton was well-known in Kingston and for many years was an active worker in the affairs of the Wurts street Baptist Church where she had been a faithful member. She was also a member of the Women's Benefit Association. The funeral will be held at the Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street Monday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Montrose Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home today from 7 to 9 and Sunday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Jersey Couple Injured in Local Accident Today

A New Jersey couple suffered minor injuries in a two-car accident at 9:30 a. m. today at Foxhall and Flatbush avenues, according to police.

Injured were Fred Schiebeluth, 60, of New City, N. J., and his wife Marie, 50, of New City. Schiebeluth suffered injuries to his nose while Mrs. Schiebeluth complained of an injury to her side. Both were to be treated by a private physician, the report said.

POLICE SAID Mr. Schiebeluth was driving his 1953 sedan east on Flatbush avenue when it was in collision with a 1949 panel truck owned by the K and S Electric Company, 34 Broadway, operated by Saul Kaplan, 36, same address. The truck was headed north on Foxhall avenue.

Mr. Kaplan and passengers in the truck, Francis Gardner, 19, of 154 Washington avenue, and Roger Kelly, 19, of Sleightsburg, were to be examined at Kingsport Hospital for possible injuries, the report said.

The Schiebeluth vehicle sustained damage to the right side while the truck was damaged on the complete front end, police said. Officers Raymond Wells and Edward Edwards investigated.

House Leader

that Eisenhower should let his 1956 intentions be known soon so as to give other possible candidates a chance to make their plans in the event Eisenhower doesn't run again.

Moreover, all indications are that the President will keep his plans to himself at least until the end of January. At that time he'll undergo a sort of final medical examination to see whether his recovery from his heart attack is complete. GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall voiced belief after a meeting with the President last Monday that Eisenhower will run again "if he feels he is able."

EISENHOWER continued to leave the issue in doubt. He promised in a message to the Republican National Committee meeting in Chicago this week that he'd do all he could to help the party in the '56 campaign. But he left unanswered the big question of who will head the '56 ticket.

Politics aside, Eisenhower had much to discuss with Knowland and Martin—the shape of next month's state of the union message in which he will tell Congress what he'd like to have it do in the session ahead.

Health, education, highway and a host of other legislative matters are up for consideration. Mostly, but by no means exclusively, they are hangers from the 1955 session.

The Democrats, controlling both House and Senate, are shaping a program of their own, probably including tax reduction and other matters which may or may not be in the President's list of recommendations.

High Court . . .

for Mr. Farrell, Republican candidate.

Unofficial figures excluding the contested 13 absentee ballots show Farrell tied with Supervisor Showers.

In the event the Supreme Court rules out the absentee ballots and a tie vote results, according to law, Supervisor Showers would remain in office until next November when a special election would be held. The winner at that time would be sworn in the day following the election.

Eleanor Backs Adlai

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the late President, is one of a number of well-known Democrats organizing a New York "Stevenson for President" committee, it was learned yesterday.

It was reported the committee has no intention of sponsoring primary contests for convention delegates in New York, but to mobilize "sentiment" here for Adlai Stevenson's renomination next summer.

Non-Poisonous

While there are many reptiles in the West Indies, no poisonous snakes are found in the larger islands of Cuba, Jamaica, Hispaniola, and Puerto Rico.

Security Firing Probers Suspend Public Hearings

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Senators investigating the Eisenhower administration's controversial "box score" of security risk firings have suspended public hearings amid a flurry of partisan sparring.

A Senate Civil Service committee yesterday recessed its hearings, probably for a few weeks, with Sen. Neely (D-W. Va.) claiming testimony developed by the group had exposed what he termed Republican "fakery."

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), the lone GOP member, retorted with an accusation that the subcommittee used "hit and run tactics."

Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-S. C.) and Neely said the hearings "destroyed" administration claims that 3,586 government workers were fired under President Eisenhower's security program up to last June 30.

THEY ARGUED the evidence shows not even 10 per cent of those so listed actually were fired under terms of the President's directive, that normal Civil Service and other procedures were invoked to dismiss the others.

Carlson said the evidence also showed that derogatory information was in the files of everyone listed.

East Germans Claim Control By Red Treaty

Berlin, Dec. 3 (AP)—Communists East Germany claimed today the Russians gave it full control over East Berlin in the treaty they signed Sept. 20 in Moscow.

The claim was made in an editorial in Neues Deutschland, official newspaper of the East German Communist party. It was the third day in a row the Communists have used the paper to proclaim that they rather than the Russians now boss East Germany and East Berlin.

THE EDITORIAL declared the treaty "established the full sovereignty of the (Communist) German democratic republic." It added there was "complete clarity" on the subject.

The preamble to the Russian-East German treaty said both parties "respect the obligations" both have under international agreements "concerning all of Germany." At the time this was construed by the west as recognizing the four-power status of Berlin.

The East German government, meanwhile, announced a "new definition of duties" for its cabinet members. The announcement, as carried by the official news agency ADN, gave no details except that Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist party boss, has been reappointed first deputy premier.

President Otto Grottel, who also said Bruno Leuschner, chairman of the State Planning Commission, was given the rank of deputy premier. Leuschner's elevation gives East Germany 10 deputy premiers. ADN said the "new definition of duties" was designed to "improve the work of the state apparatus."

THE RUSSIANS have decided to turn over to the East German Communists the issuance of all permits for canal traffic between Berlin and West Germany, it was learned.

Sen. Otto Theuner, West Berlin director of traffic, said the system goes into effect Dec. 31.

Canal barges carry virtually all of Berlin's coal and about one-third of the city's other supplies. They have operated on Russian-issued permits since the war.

Ike to Lead . . .

was decided upon Wednesday. Top unionists took this as a cue that the President is backing his secretary of labor, James P. Mitchell, in favor of a friendly approach to the unions.

SOME REPUBLICANS, notably Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Sen. William F. Knowland of California, have accused labor leaders of raising slush funds to gain control of the Democratic party and the government.

Possibly indicating the significance the President attaches to the occasion, it will be his first "person to person" address since he suffered the heart attack Sept. 24.

The President told the Republican National Committee Thursday he will play an active role in the 1956 presidential campaign, without committing himself as to whether he will be a candidate.

MITCHELL, who also will address the convention, on Tuesday, has taken the line in previous speeches that the nation has enjoyed unprecedented prosperity and employment under the Eisenhower administration.

The speeches of Stevenson and Harriman are expected to be watched with interest from any individual views on the labor union as possible rivals for the Democratic nomination.

West Seeks . . .

day before the special political committee.

Ts'ang labeled the package proposal "unconditional surrender" to the Russians and declared China would not share the responsibility for admitting any of the five Soviet entries.

He did not state flatly that the Nationalists would use the veto, but a delegation source said this was only because it was felt the veto is a Security Council matter.

World News in Brief

RANGOON, BURMA, Dec. 3 (AP)—Russia's two top men pushed into Burma's hinterland today on their "selling tour" of southeast Asia.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dulles joined Portugal's foreign minister in pronouncing remarks made by the Soviet leaders on their Asian visit as an attempt "to foment hatred between the East and West."

The Russian's host, Premier U Nu, cancelled earlier plans to join Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev Sunday in Mandalay. He will remain in Rangoon until the Russians return Monday for another two-day stay here. No reason for U Nu's change in plans was announced.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 3 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan apparently have called a truce in their squabble over whether Democrats should be moderate in next year's campaign.

Stevenson received a rousing, almost hysterical, welcome from 1,500 delegates and a handshake from Williams on his appearance here yesterday at the national convention of young Democrats.

Both Stevenson, 1952 Democratic nominee, and candidate again, and Williams declared they are not at war with each other, and both turned their fire toward the Eisenhower administration.

STUTTGART, Germany, Dec. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Walter Gieseking, 66, wife of Germany's famed concert pianist, and an American soldier were killed in a bus accident here last night. The pianist and 11 other Americans—7 soldiers and 4 civilians—were injured.

Unofficial sources tentatively identified the American killed as specialist 2/C Homer Bryan (host town unavailable). The American civilian victims were identified as Irving M. Shore, 31, and his wife, Lillian, 28, of (306 Brighton st., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Leroy A. Kellogg, 40, and his wife, Phyllis (138 Lucille st.) Fairfield, Conn.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—

Two Perish . . .

Wurts street. Mrs. Richens was a member of the Ulster County Women's Democratic Club.

Young Richens played the violin in the high school orchestra for the past three years. He was interested in amateur radio work with the local Civil Defense. He was described by Principal M. Clifford Miller of Kingston High School as a boy of excellent character, an "excellent school citizen." He took an active part in church activities. When in the MJM School he was a member of the Library Club.

Canada Transport Crash Kills 10

Montmedy, France, Dec. 3 (AP)—A Canadian military transport plane crashed in Montmedy Forest today and first reports said 10 of the 16 persons aboard were killed. All were Canadians.

Three persons were reported to have been slightly injured. Nothing was known concerning the other three reported aboard.

THE PLANE was believed to have been flying from Metz to Marville Air Base, home field of a Canadian fighter wing, and was reported to have been from a Canadian airbase in England. The plane fell two miles south of here after taking off from the big Canadian field at Gros Tenquin, near Metz. It had been expected to land at Marville to pick up more passengers. The plane was destroyed.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today Republican chances of winning control of the Senate in 1956 are "looking up" despite midwest unrest over the administration's farm program.

Goldwater, who heads the Republican senatorial campaign committee, said in an interview he regards the decision of Sen. Bible (D-New.) not to seek reelection as indicating a likely GOP gain of one seat.

Senate membership now includes 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans.

PARIS, Dec. 3 (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure took personal charge today of arrangements for the French general elections by assuming the additional post of interior minister.

Faure's cabinet announced yesterday the elections for deputies in the national assembly will be held Jan. 2. It was his first public appearance since he held the election of the June scheduled date that brought a vote of confidence against Faure Tuesday.

Instead of resigning, the premier invoked a clause of the constitution never applied before to dissolve the assembly, thereby getting the early balloting he wanted.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 3 (AP)—The sentences of more than 1,000 Yugoslav prisoners were wiped out or cut today under a general amnesty issued by President Tito to mark the 10th anniversary of the republic.

Among the 460 prisoners released is Dragoljub Jovanovic, first secretary-general of the Peoples Front, who was sentenced in 1947 to nine years in prison for anti-government activities.

Among prominent political prisoners who had their sentences reduced were former Gen. Branko Pecovic and former Col. Ulado Pecovic.

Gardiner Man Is Ruled Suicide

Ivar James Klyve, 26, of Ireland Corners Hotel died about 5:55 a. m. today apparently the victim of a self-inflicted gun shot wound.

Coroner Francis J. McCordie, who went to the scene returned a verdict of death by suicide.

Klyve resided at the hotel, located on Route 44-55 in the town of Gardiner, with his wife and 19 months old daughter. The hotel is operated by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isak Klyve.

AS THE CORONER and Sergeant Lynn Baker of the State Police began the story together, Klyve has been discharged from the U. S. Air Force on May 30 after four years of service. He had shown signs of nervousness and despondency, the coroner said.

Last night he and his wife, June Marie went to a movie in Newburgh and on the way home stopped for a few drinks, arriving at the hotel at about 3 a. m.

Klyve, a draftsman for Modern Design of Poughkeepsie, got out of bed during the night, went down stairs and about 5 a. m. the family heard a shot. Dr. Jeffrey Wiersun of New Paltz treated him but Klyve died about 5:55 a. m. An 8 mm. rifle was found along side the body.

Coroner McCordie said that Klyve died of a massive cranial hemorrhage and that there would be no post mortem.

The body was removed to the Pine Funeral Home, New Paltz. Klyve, born in Brooklyn was a veteran of the Korean conflict.

Besides his parents he is survived by his wife the former June Marie Roos and a daughter Cindy Lee.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the Pine Funeral Home with the Rev. John E. Swords of the Modern Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in New Paltz Rural Cemetery.

Tillson Man Is Arrested for Reckless Driving

Five vehicular accidents, all on Route 32, were investigated Friday afternoon by Kingston State Police—one involving the arrest of a 51-year-old Tillson man on charges of reckless driving. The man, Harry Swehla, was reportedly in collision with another car operated by Leonard Wolven, 48, of R. D. 4, Kingston on Route 32 near the Maple Hill road about 5 p. m. Troopers said Swehla failed to stop.

Wolven flagged another car and followed Swehla in the village of Rosendale according to troopers.

ABOUT 5:15 P. M. in the village Swehla was traveling south towards Tillson when he hit the left front of a house trailer attached to a pick-up truck, owned by Clifford Wagoner, 53, of Fillmore, troopers said. After striking the side of the trailer he struck and extensively damaged a 1953 sedan owned by Burnley Hills, 60, of Mount Pleasant, it was reported.

The Swehla car caught on a bumper of the Hills vehicle, swung around, facing in the opposite direction. Swehla was taken to Benedictine Hospital where he was treated for face and chest abrasions, and shock and released.

Troopers said that other charges against Swehla were pending. The charges are returnable before Justice of Peace Wilfred Doolittle of Rosendale.

Mediators Meet Again on Strike Of Detroit Papers

Detroit, Dec. 3 (AP)—A new attempt will be made today to settle the three-day-old strike of stereotypers which has closed down Detroit's metropolitan daily newspapers.

Representatives of the AFL Stereotypers and the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn. met for four hours last night, but their only agreement was to meet again today (at 2 p. m. EST).

FEDERAL and state mediators sat in last night and were to be in on today's negotiations, too.

With the News, Free Press and Times shut down, the Detroit Reporter made its bow on newstands today. It is being published by the Newspaper Guild of Detroit and the printing craft unions. For the initial issue 100,000 copies were run off.

Among them the Evening News and Times and the Morning Free Press had around 1,300,000 circulation, and the walkout of 116 stereotypers idled 4,698 employees. Other unions refused to cross picket lines set up at all three plants.

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, Dec. 3—The regular bi-monthly meeting of Mt. Tremper Grange 1468 was held in the Grange hall Monday evening. The members voted to make the usual donation of candy and oranges to local children at the annual community Christmas party. The Grange decided to have its own Christmas party Monday, Dec. 12. A covered dish supper for Grange members and their families will take place at 6:30 p. m.

The Grange will supply the main dish, but each family is asked to bring one covered dish. Small gifts will be exchanged.

Steven Brunet was host to his kindergarten class at the Onteora Central School at a party celebrating his fifth birthday recently. Mrs. Judith Moses, his teacher, helped Steven serve ice cream and goodies to his classmates.

Slippery Streets

damage to the left rear fender and rear bumper while the Van Wagenen vehicle, which was towed away, was damaged on the left front fender, wheel, hood and tire, police said.

Property damage was reported by police in a two-car accident at 7:35 p. m. at 44 Yeomans street.

THE REPORT said a 1953 sedan owned by Frank Kelly, of 18 Gill street, headed east on Union street was in collision with a 1951 sedan owned by Harold W. Christian, of 44 Yeoman street, which was parked in the driveway at that address.

Police reported damage to the front porch at that address, owned by Mrs. Joseph Netherwood, of 40 Yeoman street.

The Kelly car, which was towed away, received damage to the right front end and possible hidden damage, while the Christian vehicle sustained possible hidden damage, police said.

in the Thames valley ripped into the rear of the freight train just outside Barnes station. Barnes is eight miles west of central London.

The first coach overturned and dug a path along an embankment before stopping. The collision shorted the car's power circuit. There was a moment's silence, and then the crumpled coach exploded into flames.

THE SCREAMS of the trapped and injured sounded above the roar of the fire as dazed passengers from the rear coaches sought to give aid.

Railroad workers and uninjured passengers tore at the wreckage with their bare hands. They hurried the injured they could remove to houses along the tracks.

The accident occurred below a highway bridge. Firemen fought the flames from 20 feet above the wreck scene. The fire melted the asphalt roadway surface about the firemen and heated the steel girders to a glowing red.

Mrs. Anthony Alcock, who escaped with her husband from the flaming coach, said "every-one behaved magnificently."

"I BELIEVE everyone in our compartment got out," she added. "It was too late to help anyone else. We all lost our shoes as we ran blindly for safety across the live rails."

George Peters, a 55-year-old off-duty railway engineer, was riding in the third coach. He said his one thought was to cut off the electric current.

"It was a nightmare," Peters said. "I threw a rod across the rails and cut off the power but the damage had been done by then."

PETERS SAID he tried to help those trapped in the first coach but could not stay near it for more than a minute at a time because of the heat.

Police Constable Thomas Oliver, 45, hauled his way into the engineer's cabin and pulled out the trapped engineer, Bill Flinders. Passengers at the side of the track screamed as Oliver collapsed in the intense heat, but cheered and sobbed as they saw him rise and drag Flinders out. The conductor of the freight train was among those killed. His car and the last three cars on his train were gutted by fire.

Agents Arrest John Kendrick, One of 10 Wanted

Chicago, Dec. 3 (AP)—John Kendrick, 58, one of the FBI's 10-most-wanted men who has served most of the last 32 years in prisons, was arrested by FBI agents in a Loop hotel last night.

Kendrick, identified by FBI agents as a "hardened gunman" involved in a number of shootings and with a record of escapes from two prisons, was not armed when arrested.

Donald S. Hostetter, agent in charge of the Chicago FBI office, said Kendrick refused to admit his identity, claiming he was simply "Mr. None." He was not registered at the hotel, which Hostetter declined to identify.

HOSTETTER said Kendrick, who had served seven years in Alcatraz Prison, was wanted in connection with the shooting of George A. Claiborne, of Washington, D. C., in a robbery attempt in December, 1954. He also was wanted for violating terms of his conditional release from Leavenworth Penitentiary in March, 1954.

Kendrick was held in the central police station pending arraignment later today before the U. S. court commissioner.

Hostetter said Kendrick, who was added to the 10-most-wanted list on Nov. 2, had been involved in crime since 1923 when he was sentenced to 6½ years in Maryland State Penitentiary for larceny and assault.

Local Death Record

Mrs. Marguerite Hutton

Mrs. Marguerite A. Hutton, 297 Hasbrouck avenue died at her home Friday following an illness of nearly a year. Mrs. Hutton was born in Germany, a daughter of the late Henry and Catherine Ruth Breckman. She came to this country at the age of two and has lived in Kingston for about 70 years.

Mrs. Hutton was the widow of William B. Hutton who died several years ago. She is survived by two sons, Charles W. of Port Ewen, LeRoy of Kingston, a grandson William Hutton of Hurley, two sisters Mrs. Herbert Finley of Tannersville and Mrs. Sherman Higgins of Kingston. Two great grandchildren also survive. Mrs. Hutton was well-known in Kingston and for many years was an active worker in the affairs of the Wurts street Baptist Church where she had been a faithful member. She was also a member of the Women's Benefit Association. The funeral will be held at the Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, Monday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Montrose Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home today from 7 to 9 and Sunday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Jersey Couple Injured in Local Accident Today

A New Jersey couple suffered minor injuries in a two-car accident at 9:30 a. m., today at Foxhall and Flatbush avenues, according to police.

Injured were Fred Schiebeluth, 60, of New City, N. J., and his wife Marie, 50, of New City. Schiebeluth suffered injuries to his nose while Mrs. Schiebeluth complained of an injury to her side. Both were to be treated by a private physician, the report said.

POLICE SAID Mr. Schiebeluth was driving his 1953 sedan east on Flatbush avenue when it was in collision with a 1949 panel truck owned by the K and S Electric Company, 34 Broadway, operated by Saul Kaplan, 36, same address. The truck was headed north on Foxhall avenue.

Mr. Kaplan and passengers in the truck, Francis Gardner, 19, of 154 Washington avenue, and Roger Kelly, 19, of Sleighsburg, were to be examined at Kingston Hospital for possible injuries, the report said.

The Schiebeluth vehicle sustained damage to the right side while the truck was damaged on the complete front end, police said. Officers Raymond Wells and Edward Edwards investigated.

House Leader

that Eisenhower should let his 1956 intentions be known soon so as to give other possible candidates a chance to make their plans for the event Eisenhower doesn't run again.

However, all indications are that the President will keep his plans to himself at least until the end of January. At that time he'll undergo a sort of final medical examination to see whether his recovery from his heart attack is complete.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall voiced belief after a meeting with the President last Monday that Eisenhower will run again "if he feels he is able."

EISENHOWER continued to leave the issue in doubt. He promised in a message to the Republican National Committee meeting in Chicago this week that he'd do all he could to help the party in the '56 campaign. But he left unanswered the big question of who will head the '56 ticket.

Politics aside, Eisenhower had much to discuss with Knowland and Martin—the shape of next month's state of the union message in which he will tell Congress what he'd like to have it do in the session ahead.

Health, education, highway and a host of other legislative matters are up for consideration. Mostly, but by no means exclusively, they are hangers-on from the 1955 session.

The Democrats, controlling both House and Senate, are shaping a program of their own, probably including tax reduction and other matters which may or may not be in the President's list of recommendations.

High Court . . .

for Mr. Farrell, Republican candidate.

Unofficial figures excluding the contested 13 absentee ballots show Farrell tied with Supervisor Showers.

In the event the Supreme Court rules out the absentee ballots and a tie vote results, according to law, Supervisor Showers would remain in office until next November when a special election would be held. The winner at that time would be sworn in the day following the election.

Eleanor Backs Adlai

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the late President, is one of a number of well-known Democrats organizing a New York "Stevenson for President" committee, it was learned yesterday. It was reported the committee has no intention of sponsoring primary contests for convention delegates in New York, but to mobilize "sentiment" here for Adlai Stevenson's renomination next summer.

Non-Poisonous

While there are many reptiles in the West Indies, no poisonous snakes are, found in the larger islands of Cuba, Jamaica, Hispaniola, and Puerto Rico.

Security Firing Probers Suspend Public Hearings

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Senators investigating the Eisenhower administration's controversial "box score" of security risk firings have suspended public hearings amid a flurry of partisan sparring.

A Senate Civil Service committee yesterday recessed its hearings, probably for a few weeks, with Sen. Neely (D-W. Va.) claiming testimony developed by the group had exposed what he termed Republican "fakery."

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), the lone GOP member, retorted with an accusation that the subcommittee used "hit and run tactics."

Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-S. C.) and Neely said the hearings "destroyed" administration claims that 3,586 government workers were fired under President Eisenhower's security program up to last June 30.

THEY ARGUED the evidence shows not even 10 per cent of those so listed actually were fired under terms of the President's directive; that normal Civil Service and other procedures were invoked to dismiss those others.

Carlson said the evidence also showed that derogatory information was in the files of every one listed.

East Germans Claim Control By Red Treaty

Berlin, Dec. 3 (AP)—Communist East Germany claimed today the Russians gave it full control over East Berlin in the treaty they signed Sept. 20 in Moscow.

The claim was made in an editorial in Neues Deutschland, official newspaper of the East German Communist party. It was the third day in a row the Communists have used the paper to proclaim that they rather than the Russians now boss East Germany and East Berlin.

THE EDITORIAL declared the treaty "established the full sovereignty of the (Communist) German democratic republic." It added there was "complete clarity" on the subject.

The preamble to the Russian-East German treaty said both parties "respect the obligations" they have under international agreements "concerning all of Germany." At the time this was construed by the west as recognizing the four-power status of Berlin.

The East German government, meanwhile, announced a "new definition of duties" for its cabinet members. The announcement, as carried by the official news agency ADN, gave no details except that Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist party boss, has been reappointed first deputy premier under Premier Otto Grotewohl. It also said Bruno Leuschner, chairman of the State Planning Commission, was given the rank of deputy premier. Leuschner's elevation gave East Germany 10 deputy premiers. ADN said the "new definition of duties" was designed to "improve the work of the state apparatus."

THE RUSSIANS have decided to turn over to the East German Communists the issuance of all permits for canal traffic between Berlin and West Germany, it was learned.

Sen. Otto Theuner, West Berlin director of traffic, said the new system goes into effect Dec. 31.

Canal barges carry virtually all of Berlin's coal and about one-third of the city's other supplies. They have operated on Russian-issued permits since the war.

World News in Brief

RANGOON BURMA, Dec. 3 (AP)—Russia's two top men pushed into Burma's hinterland today on their "selling tour" of southeast Asia.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dulles joined Portugal's foreign minister in denouncing remarks made by the Soviet leader on his Asian visit as an attempt "to foment hatred between the East and West."

The Russian's host, Premier U Nu, cancelled earlier plans to join Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev Sunday in Mandalay. He will remain in Rangoon until the Russians return Monday for another two-day stay here. No reason for U Nu's change in plans was announced.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 3 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan apparently have called a truce in their squabble over whether Democrats should be moderate in next year's campaign.

Stevenson received a rousing, almost hysterical, welcome from 1,500 delegates and a handshake from Williams on his appearance here yesterday at the national convention of young Democrats.

Both Stevenson, 1952 Democratic nominee and candidate again, and Williams declared they are not at war with each other, and both turned their fire toward the Eisenhower administration.

STUTTGART, Germany, Dec. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Walter Gieseking, 66, wife of Germany's famed concert pianist, and an American soldier were killed in a bus accident here last night. The pianist and 11 other Americans—7 soldiers and 4 civilians—were injured.

Unofficial sources tentatively identified the American killed as specialist 2/C Homer Bryan (hometown unavailable).

The American civilian victims were identified as Irving M. Shore, 31, and his wife, Lillian, 28, of (306 Brighton st.) Brooklyn, N. Y.; Leroy A. Kellogg, 40, and his wife, Phyllis (138 Lucille st.) Fairfield, Conn.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—

Two Perish . . .

Wurts street. Mrs. Richens was a member of the Ulster County Women's Democratic Club.

Young Richens played the violin in the high school orchestra for the past three years. He was interested in amateur radio work with the local Civil Defense. He was described by Principal M. Clifford Miller of Kingston High School as a boy of excellent character, an "excellent school citizen." He took an active part in church activities. When in the MJM School he was a member of the Library Club.

SURVIVING Mrs. Richens are three daughters, Sarah, wife of Robert Balfe of Whitesboro, Maida, wife of Jack Blankschen of Kingston and Mavis, wife of Raymond Phoenix of Schenectady; her mother, Mrs. Frank B. Herd of Albany; four sisters, Mrs. Clyde G. Caldwell of Monongahela, Pa., Mrs. Benjamin Devore, also of Monongahela, Pa., Howard Johnson of Albany and Miss Florence Herd of Albany; a brother, Frank Herd of Kingston, and six grandchildren.

The funeral will be held at 8 p. m. Monday at the Evangelical Lutheran Church with the Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor, officiating. Burial will be private in Wiltwyck Cemetery. Friends may call at the Sweet & Keyser Funeral Service, Inc., 167 Tremper avenue, from 7 p. m. Sunday to 5 p. m. Monday.

CANADA TRANSPORT Crash Kills 10

Montreal, France, Dec. 3 (AP)—A Canadian military transport plane crashed in Montreal Forest today and first reports said 10 of the 16 persons aboard were killed. All were Canadians.

Three persons were reported to have been slightly injured. Nothing was known concerning the other three reported aboard.

THE PLANE was believed to have been flying from Metz to Marville Air Base, home field of a Canadian fighter wing, and was reported to have been from a Canadian airbase in England.

The plane fell two miles south of here after taking off from the big Canadian field at Gros Tenu, near Metz. It had been expected to land at Marville to pick up more passengers. The plane was destroyed.

WEST SEEKS . . .

Tsiang labeled the package proposal "unconditional surrender" to the Russians and declared China would not share the responsibility for admitting any of the five Soviet entries.

He did not state flatly that the Nationalists would use the veto, but a delegation source said this was only because it was felt the veto is a Security Council matter.

PARIS, Dec. 3 (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure took preliminary charge today of arrangements for the French general elections by assuming the additional post of interior minister.

Faure's cabinet announced yesterday that elections for deputies in the national assembly will be held Jan. 2. It was his insistence that the elections be held ahead of the June scheduled date that brought a vote of confidence against Faure Tuesday.

Instead of resigning, the premier invoked a clause of the constitution never applied before to dissolve the assembly, thereby getting the early balloting he wanted.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 3 (AP)—The sentences of more than 1,000 Yugoslav prisoners were wiped out or cut today under a general amnesty issued by President Tito to mark the 10th anniversary of the republic.

Among the 460 prisoners released is Dragoljub Jovanovic, first secretary-general of the Peoples Front, who was sentenced in 1947 to nine years in prison for anti-government activities.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today Republican chances of winning control of the Senate in 1956 are "looking up" despite midwest unrest over the administration's farm program.

Goldwater, who heads the Republican senatorial campaign committee, said in an interview he regards the decision of Sen. Bible (D-Nev.) not to seek reelection as indicating a likely GOP gain of one seat.

Senate membership now includes 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans.

REVERSING THE ORDER

If the national conventions would follow the agenda of many successful meetings, the most important event would come last. On such a program the candidate for vice-president would be nominated before the candidate for president. This suggestion for improving the caliber of vice-presidential choices is discussed by Arthur Krock in the New York Times. He reports that it is under consideration by prominent Democrats, among them Stephen A. Mitchell, former national chairman.

Under the present system, delegates exhaust themselves picking the top of the ticket. Afterwards the main thought is to get the remaining business over quickly and get home. Rather than deliberate, they seem willing to choose almost anyone for vice-president whom the leaders suggest. This would certainly explain some of the strange choices in the past.

An agenda change might have one unexpected result. The Constitution forbids president and vice-president to come from the same state. In states with more than one presidential possibility, one of them might decide to make a drive for the vice-presidency, thereby ending his rivals' presidential chances.

It is not likely, however, that such a change will occur soon in convention programming. But as a suggestion it is simply one of the many considerations to appraise in the major business of trying to secure less political and more individually responsible vice-presidents.

DO THEY BELIEVE IT?

"No one in Russia enjoys immunity from criticism by the press." This whopper was told by Boris Kampov-Polovoy, head of a visiting delegation, in an interview. Some one must have asked him if Russian newspapers ever ventured to criticize Stalin. He chose to answer: "Under Stalin there simply do not seem to have been any occasions for criticism."

Anyone who believes that will believe anything.

A fellow really shouldn't be surprised at those neckties he gets from "Santa." After all what kind of a taste can you expect from a fellow who never wears anything except a red suit?

It's amazing—the day by day improvement in youngsters' behavior—who needs a calendar to tell that Christmas is just around the corner?

CURES FOR TRAFFIC JAMS

The morning rush hours see more persons entering large cities than the roads can handle, and the same sight in the opposite direction is witnessed in the late afternoons. Everyone knows this, yet nothing is done about it. A remedial suggestion, often advanced previously, is made anew by President Patrick B. McGinnis of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, speaking at a traffic forum arranged by the New York City Board of Trade.

He would like to see business adopt a stagger system of employment, so that the morning rush period could be spread from seven to ten, and the evening jam from three to six. In that way, he said, mass transportation could give almost everyone a seat, and incidentally get enough additional revenue to buy new equipment.

This has been suggested many times before, but never greeted with enthusiasm on the part of business. They do not see their workers accepting cheerfully a work day that begins at 7 a. m., even if it means getting out correspondingly early.

Just as sensible fundamentally but just as impractical, is another McGinnis suggestion, providing a penalty for commuters entering the city by car. Cities may have to come to this rule ultimately, but drivers will endure vastly more discomfort before they will accept this cure.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
BLUEPRINT OF A SMILE

It is always possible to find a blueprint for whatever the Kremlin does if one searches for it diligently. The Russians never pursue a hit-and-miss policy. Everything is planned and the plans are generally published so that if our government were adequately served, our delegates could know in advance what the new Russian line is. For instance, the Summit Conference at Geneva was held during the week of July 18. On July 15, 1955, "International Affairs," in Moscow, published an article by A. Denisov, entitled "International Cultural Bonds of the Soviet People." The third paragraph tells all:

"A country which isolates itself from cultural life abroad, which does not seek cultural co-operation with other countries, deprives its people of the opportunity to utilize the creative achievements of other peoples. Besides, by so doing it makes it difficult for other peoples to learn the truth about the life of its own people. And truth is a tremendous force against slander, misinformation and other manifestations of hatred and evil."

Up to that moment, Soviet Russia was isolated by its own decision. It had separated itself from the rest of the world. Since then, Russians have been permitted to visit all countries, including the United States, and the Iron Curtain has been raised so that Americans may go to Soviet Russia. Khrushchev and Bulganin are willing to go anywhere and to enjoy themselves en route. How far this will go is also blueprinted:

"International cultural bonds play a prominent part in consolidating good-neighborly relations and are a reliable means of achieving mutual understanding among peoples. They mean close and continuous contact between people of different nations, personal interviews, exchange of scientific, parliamentary, trade union, women's, youth and other delegations, theatrical and sports groups, contact at international scientific congresses, musical contests, etc."

Lenin, during the New Economic Policy period, encouraged this type of interchange. Stalin was afraid of it. Stalin was closer in his thinking to Ivan the Terrible than to Peter the Great. Khrushchev is closer to Lenin than to Stalin. Lenin did not fear contact with the West because he believed that the success of Marxism was historically inevitable, as Marx himself believed. Stalin was not so sure of inevitability and therefore set up safeguards against contamination which could lead to failure. Denisov states the Khrushchev position as follows:

"Soviet people, consistently advocating the policy of peace, friendship and democratic co-operation among nations want to improve their cultural bonds with all peoples. They are building a new, Communist society, and communism, as the highest form of social organization, enriches itself in the course of its progress with the greatest achievements of mankind in economy, material life and culture. One cannot become a Communist, said Lenin, the founder of the Soviet State, without endowing one's mind with the knowledge of all the values which humanity has created in the course of many centuries."

As far back as February 9, 1955, the Supreme Soviet issued a declaration on the subject of international tension and the need for relieving it. Special attention was paid to mutual visits of parliamentary groups and scientists. Also the provision of fashionable materials and atomic reactors for research to other countries was proposed.

The Denisov article would also indicate that the Soviet Universal State has about reached its limits and would like time to consolidate. For it has been the Soviet Universal State that has been expanding into the largest empire the world has ever known, absorbing sovereign states in its course, some 15 of them, giving them a new status. Referring to the "just" principles which guide the policies of Soviet Russia, Denisov says: "First and foremost, the honest and frank recognition of state and national sovereignty. The Soviet policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries rests on this principle."

What about Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, to say nothing of Germany and Finland? What about the indications of such countries as the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and others by their own Communist Parties which are political and espionage arms of the Soviet Universal State? Does this declaration mean that all this activity ceases henceforth? Certainly in each country the Communist Party does interfere in the internal affairs of a sovereign state. But what is significant is that it seemed important to the Kremlin that the above statement be made during the Summer of 1955.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PROBLEMS OF TUBERCULOSIS PATIENT

In spite of the great advances being made in the treatment of tuberculosis, advances so great that many sanatoria are no longer needed because a long stay in hospital is not required in many cases, tuberculosis remains a much dreaded disease, so dreaded that patients frequently deceive themselves, either consciously or unconsciously, about its first signs and symptoms. They do not want to admit it, even to themselves, that they could possibly have tuberculosis. They are desperately afraid of what a long period in hospital might do to their lives and those of their loved ones.

Thus Dr. E. Wittkower, H. Durost and W. Laing, McGill University, tells us that some patients delay hospitalization until the disease is far advanced because of unbearable feelings of duty to their work and families. Others reject hospitalization because of unwillingness to give up close dependent relationships with parent or husband or wife. Still others, unwilling to give up the pleasures of the outside world, deceive themselves in a foolish manner about the seriousness of their condition. Some patients refuse necessary surgical procedures because of fear of disfigurement.

Patients leaving hospital or sanatorium against medical advice often do so because they are resentful, many because they feel guilty lying in bed while they think they should be working, others who are tightly bound to their families and dependent for love and affection found at home.

When a patient has been discharged from hospital with his tuberculosis "arrested" and has a relapse requiring his return, it is usually found that he has failed to obey medical advice. Some persons are unwilling to live restricted lives and give up former pleasures; others, feeling an exaggerated sense of responsibility, return to work too soon.

While everyone shows a need for affection and social acceptance, a feeling of dependency, some patients are better able to handle this need more than others. Those whose course in hospital is favorable seem to be the more mature, less likely to swing from love to hate in their relationships with others, and are less concerned about getting attention and more capable of accepting responsibilities.

"Flexibility seems to be essential for successful adjustment to the stress of illness. Flexible patients find substitutes for pleasures that must be abandoned and are, therefore, less frustrated, aggressive and resentful than rigid persons."

A knowledge of the patient's background and personality is of help in deciding upon the best way of telling him his diagnosis and in planning the course of action. A sympathetic awareness of the problems of the individual is necessary to deal with the situation adequately. Conscientious, duty-bound patients should be encouraged to do less than they feel is expected of them and anxious, dependent patients should be encouraged to do more. Rebellious, hostile patients need an opportunity to air resentments without fear of being "paid back" by hospital authorities. We must remember that the prolonged inactivity required in treating tuberculosis is not an easy thing to take.

Let's Keep a Head on Those Shoulders

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—With a new lease on life and a promise of more money support, the "For America" committee is coming out in the open now as a political action group.

For those who may not remember, this is the group that the late Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune and ex-Rep. Hamilton Fish of New York formed more than a year ago to promote their views and policies.

Gen. Robert E. Wood of Sears Roebuck was elected national chairman. Brig Gen. Bonner Fellers, who had been Gen. Douglas MacArthur's public relations expert in Japan, was made national director and promised a million and a quarter dollars for the '54 campaign.

Today Gen. Fellers admits with a laugh that he may have seen the quarter, but he never got the million.

HAM FISH PULLED OUT of the organization because he wanted to make it an active political group. Col. McCormick wanted to make it merely an educational committee. Since Col. McCormick was paying most of the bills, that's what it remained.

But now Gen. Wood, because of his advancing years, has been made honorary chairman. Dean Clarence Manion of Notre Dame Law School and Dan Smoot, the Dallas, Tex., radio commentator formerly with "Facts Forum" have been made co-chairmen.

A policy committee of 70 from 26 states has been named. Included are such names as Lt. Gen. George D. Stratemeyer, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Gen. Mark Clark, Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer, Eugene Pulliam, ex-Sen. A. W. Hawkes of New Jersey, ex-Reps. Howard Buffett, Neb., and Samuel Pettengill, Ill., Frank E. Gannett, Sumner Gerard, Adm. Ben Moreell, Richard Lloyd Jones, Donald R. Richberg, Spruille Braden, Hugh Roy Cullen, the Texas oil-and-other-business multimillionaire.

THIS LIST IN ITSELF will give a fair idea of what "For America" will stand for, and against. But after two months of arguing among themselves, a policy statement has just been issued. This is being mailed out to a big list, with a coupon suggesting contributions of $1 to $1,000—or more.

On the first page is what the policy committee identifies as "The Threat—"

"International leadership has captured both parties. International leadership threatens American independence, leading us into bankruptcy, involving us in foreign wars and destroying our liberty."

THE "FOR AMERICA" platform then outlines five proposals to overcome this threat. These are the highlights:

Protect U. S. independence—by passing the Bricker amendment and reorganizing the United Nations into a group of non-Communist states, or else force U. S. withdrawal.

Protect the solvency of the U. S.—by passing the Reed-Dixsen amendment to limit congressional taxing power, limiting foreign spending and adopting Hoover commission government reorganization proposals.

Maintain peace with honor—by creating overwhelming air superiority and abolishing conscription.

Safeguard States Rights—by giving complete and exclusive control of education to local governments.

Destroy the Communist Conspiracy—by upholding the Mc-

Carra-Walter Immigration act, abolishing the withholding tax and guaranteeing the right to work and the emancipation of wages from "check-off" dues.

So They Say..

One of the best solutions (to the farm problem) we have is to have a new secretary of agriculture, and believe it or not it was raised to be a Republican.

—Mrs. Ruth Wood, Stillwater, Okla., testifies at Senate hearing.

American farm surpluses are like money in the bank.

—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

I sometimes wonder if we are going to build larger and larger superhighways, more and more crowded with larger and larger cars, leading to larger and larger mental hospitals, while schools and colleges remain overcrowded, teachers underpaid and half our most gifted young people cannot afford a college education.

—Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of Rutgers University.

Questions -- Answers

Q—Were other figures besides Indians ever used outside the tobacco shops?

A—Yes. They included likenesses of John Bull or Uncle Sam, or a dandy dressed to draw the dandy trade. In England, a Scotsman in kilts advertised tobacco, and some figures of Scotsmen were used in America.

Q—Is halitosis (bad breath) a disease?

A—No, it is a symptom. The most frequent cause is related to the teeth.

Q—Of what animal family is the okapi a member?

A—The rare okapi of the African jungles belongs to the giraffe family. Its sloping body makes the forelegs look longer than the hind ones, as is true of the giraffe.

Coast Guard Exam

To Be Held on February 27-28

Competitive examination for entrance to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy will be held nationwide February 27-28, 1956, it was announced today by Congressman J. Ernest Wharton. Examinations will be given in 109 cities.

He emphasized the opportunity offered young men who choose this four-year course which leads to a bachelor of science degree and a commission as a career officer in America's oldest sea-going service.

"THERE ARE no appointments or geographical quotas for entrance to the Coast Guard Academy," Congressman Wharton said. "I urge all qualified young men who are interested in a worthwhile profession to write for details and applications as soon as possible to Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, D. C. Applications must be postmarked on or before January 15," he said.

A candidate for the next examination for the academy must be single, must have reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1956 and must be in excellent physical condition.

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors assured of being graduated by June 30 are eligible to take the examination if they will have at least 15 credits by that time. All applicants must have three units of English, two of algebra and one each of plane geometry and physics by graduation.

Reds' Trip to India Costly

Britons View Two Top Soviet Leaders as Political Clowns

London, Dec. 3 (AP)—Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev have established themselves as political clowns in the minds of many Britons.

Whatever successes the two Russians may have achieved in winning friends and influencing people in Asia, their visit to India has cost them a loss of dignity in British eyes and a drop in whatever popularity they may have had here as peace advocates.

SOME OF THIS tittering may still be going on here if Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Khrushchev visit London in the spring, as planned. This visit is already the subject of biting newspaper humor. A cartoon in the Daily Mail showed a pudgy Khrushchev addressing a stately banquet in London's ancient Guildhall. The Communist boss begins: "Comrade Lord Mayor, reactionary Lords, ladies and imperialist Fascist warmongers." Bulganin and a guest resembling Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red Dean" of Canterbury, look pleased.

Historian Alan Taylor, a columnist in the Laborite Daily Herald, referred to the Russians as "the two knobabout comedians who have just been touring India."

TAYLOR DEPLORED the suggestion that it would be better if Bulganin and Khrushchev did not come to London in view of their attacks on the west before Indian audiences.

"On the contrary," Taylor wrote, "I can hardly wait to hear some new pearls of their wisdom."

The visit to India produced an odd sight here on the way the British office gives out news.

Commenting on a statement by Bulganin that Russia's foreign policy is based on noninterference in the affairs of other states, Peter Matthews, as foreign office spokesman, said the Russian view "seemed thoroughly hypocritical." That was on Nov. 22.

LETTERS TO editors and editorialists showed a wide measure of British agreement with Matthews' remark. Some complained he "had been guilty of an understatement."

Russia protested. Britain countered with a protest of her own, taking exception to a statement by Khrushchev in Bombay that the Americans, British and French had "sent the troops of Hitlerite Germany" against Russia in 1941. The foreign office pointed out that was an implied insult to Prime Minister Eden, a member of the Churchill government then.

But the news setup at the Foreign Office will be changed. Instead of Matthews, Sir George Young, head of the news department, or his first assistant, Anthony Moore, will do the talking at news conferences.

THE CHANGE was not to meet the Soviet protest as much as to conform to the requirements of the British parliamentary system. Policy statements and references to governmental figures in foreign countries are supposed to be made first by a government spokesman in the House of Commons. Then the opposition can question the government about them and they can be debated.

The government admitted Matthews, a civil servant, should not have made such a statement outside of Parliament. But Eden told the House:

"I have been very careful not to deal with the merits of the answer at all."

THUS HE DID not retract the charge of hypocrisy. Subsequently Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan told the House he did not "attach much blame" to Matthews.

The Daily Express published a cartoon captioned "a quick guide on how to describe public figures safely." The cartoon suggested Stalin be referred to as "an ex-enthusiast for abolition of capital punishment."

The implication was clear the paper supported Matthews' views.

Promotions Are Featured During Pack 19 Meeting

Advancements in the form of two Lion badges, a Wolf badge, and two Bobcat pins highlighted the monthly meeting of the A-Unit of Pack 19 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home, 552 Delaware avenue, Wednesday.

Entertainment for the evening, in conjunction with the theme of the month, was supplied through the planning of the Covey family. Each of the three dens presented a display on "America the Beautiful," and a motion picture concerning Washington, D. C. was shown by the Aircraft Camera Shop.

FOLLOWING the opening flag ceremony by Den 2, under the direction of Den Chief David W. Eighmey and Daniel Devine, miniature American flags were presented to the following cubs and leaders for their part in the Veterans' Day ceremonies:

Den Mothers Betty Eighmey and Lucille Bonomo; Den Chiefs David Eighmey, Phillips Eighmey and James Connolly; Cub Scouts Sahloff, Schleede, O. Bolin, C. Bolin, Herdman, Fisk, Eighmey, Covey, Belinski, Geary, Bonomo, Connolly.

INDUCTED into the pack through the medium of an Indian ceremony were Charles Bolin and Randall Belinski.

Following a presentation of the Thanksgiving Good Will project by a representative of each den the awards for the evening were given:

Den 1: Betty Eighmey den mother, 100 per cent awards for the month, Roger Sahloff, lion badge and gold arrow; Charles Bolin, wolf badge and gold arrow; LeRoy Hamilton, lion badge, gold arrow, two silver arrows; Richard Nason, gold and silver arrows; silver arrows each to Oscar Bolin, John Schleede, Charles Bonomo and James Herdman.

Den 2: Lucille Bonomo den mother; John Fisk, two silver arrows; silver arrow each to Kerry Covey and Douglas Eighmey.

Den 3: Lillian Rittie den mother; Edward Hoffman, gold arrow; silver arrow each to Michael Bonomo, Gregory Munson.

The pack meeting was closed with the serving of refreshments by Den 2.

Cub Scout Pack 7 Observes America Theme at Meeting

The theme, America the Beautiful, was observed by the Cub Scouts of Pack 7, St. John's Church who entertained parents and friends at their recent monthly pack meeting.

Part of the program the Cub Scouts presented a play and showed a map project related to the theme.

THE PLAY, "The First Thanksgiving" was offered by Den 3 under the supervision of Den Mother Mrs. Morgan Ryan. Those participating were Danny McGrane, Bobby Peebles and Danny Ryan as Indians; Billy McDermott, Bobby Ploss and Jeffrey Scott as Pilgrims. Terry Ryan played the part of Priscilla. All were in appropriate costume.

Den 1 with Den Mother Mrs. William Palen in charge displayed a large map of New York showing Indian trails, water routes and reservations. Miniature canoes, trees, teepees, Indian horses with Indians and mountain ranges made from clay dotted the map. Cub Scouts who worked on the project included Bobby Adams, Bobby Finch, Chester Joy, Billy Moser, Billy Palen, Robert Raskowski, Robert Schaffner and John Smith.

VERNON BEESMER had charge of the formal ceremonies which were opened with a color guard presentation by Den 2 consisting of Donald Beesmer, Lester Markle and Gary Lawton.

The following awards and advancements were presented by Mr. Beesmer: Gary Lawton, denner stripes and Lion badge; Donald Beesmer, assistant denner stripes and Lion badge; Robert Eck, Lion badge; Lester Markle, Lion badge; Donald Lawton, Bear badge; Bobby Peebles, Lion badge and Jansen Ward, den chief of Den 4, den chief cord.

Refreshments were served by Den 1.

Glenn Connolly, Ronald Rittie.

chael Bonomo, Gregory Munson. The pack meeting was closed with the serving of refreshments by Den 2.

McGinnis of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, speaking at a traffic forum arranged by the New York City Board of Trade.

He would like to see business adopt a stagger system of employment, so that the morning rush period could be spread from seven to ten, and the evening jam from three to six. In that way, he said, mass transportation could give almost everyone a seat, and incidentally get enough additional revenue to buy new equipment.

This has been suggested many times before, but never greeted with enthusiasm on the part of business. They do not see their workers accepting cheerfully a work day that begins at 7 a. m., even if it means getting out correspondingly early.

Just as sensible fundamentally but just as impractical, is another McGinnis suggestion, providing a penalty for commuters entering the city by car. Cities may have to come to this rule ultimately, but drivers will endure vastly more discomfort before they will accept this cure.

"These Days"

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
BLUEPRINT OF A SMILE

It is always possible to find a blueprint for whatever the Kremlin does if one searches for it diligently. The Russians never pursue a hit-and-miss policy. Everything is planned and the plans are generally published so that if our government were adequately served, our delegates could know in advance what the new Russian line is. For instance, the Summit Conference at Geneva was held during the week of July 18. On July 15, 1955, "International Affairs," in Moscow, published an article by A. Denisov, entitled "International Cultural Bonds of the Soviet People." The third paragraph tells all:

"A country which isolates itself from cultural life abroad, which does not seek cultural cooperation with other countries, deprives its people of the opportunity to utilize the creative achievements of other peoples. Besides, by so doing it makes it difficult for other peoples to learn the truth about the life of its own people. And truth is a tremendous force against slander, misinformation and other manifestations of hatred and evil."

Up to that moment, Soviet Russia was isolated by its own decision. It had separated itself from the rest of the world. Since then, Russians have been permitted to visit all countries, including the United States, and the Iron Curtain has been raised so that Americans may go to Soviet Russia. Khrushchev and Bulganin are willing to go anywhere and to enjoy themselves en route. How far this will go is also blueprinted:

"International cultural bonds play a prominent part in consolidating good-neighborly relations and are a reliable means of achieving mutual understanding among peoples. They mean close and continuous contact between people of different nations, personal interviews, exchange of scientific, parliamentary, trade union, women's, youth and other delegations, theatrical and sports groups, contact at international scientific congresses, musical contests, etc."

Lenin, during the New Economic Policy period, encouraged this type of interchange. Stalin was afraid of it. Stalin was closer in his thinking to Ivan the Terrible than to Peter the Great. Khrushchev is closer to Lenin than to Stalin. Lenin did not fear contact with the West because he believed that the success of Marxism was historically inevitable, as Marx himself believed. Stalin was not so sure of inevitability and therefore set up safeguards against contamination which could lead to failure. Denisov states the Khrushchev position as follows:

"Soviet people, consistently advocating the policy of peace, friendship and democratic co-operation among nations, want to improve their cultural bonds with all peoples. They are building a new, Communist society, and communism, as the highest form of social organization, enriches itself in the course of its progress with the greatest achievements of mankind in economy, material life and culture. One cannot become a Communist without the founder of the Soviet State, without endorsing one's mind with the knowledge of all the values which humanity has created in the course of many centuries."

As far back as February 9, 1955, the Supreme Soviet issued a declaration on the subject of international tension and the need for relieving it. Special attention was paid to mutual visits of parliamentary groups and scientists. As to the provision of fashionable materials and atomic reactors for research to other countries was proposed.

The Denisov article would also indicate that the Soviet Universal State has about reached its limits and would like time to consolidate. For it has been the Soviet Universal State that has been expanding into the largest empire the world has ever known, absorbing sovereign states in its course, some 15 of them, giving them a new status. Referring to the "just" principles which guide the policies of Soviet Russia, Denisov says:

"First and foremost, the honest and frank recognition of state and national sovereignty. The Soviet policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries rests on this principle."

What about Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, to say nothing of Germany and Finland? What about the intrusion of such countries as the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and others by their own Communist Parties which are political and espionage arms of the Soviet Universal State? Does this declaration mean that all this activity ceases henceforth? Certainly in each country the Communist Party does interfere in the internal affairs of a sovereign state.

But what is the situation in that it seemed important to the Kremlin that the above statement be made during the Summer of 1955. (Copyright, 1955, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PROBLEMS OF TUBERCULOSIS PATIENT

In spite of the great advances being made in the treatment of tuberculosis, advances so great that many sanatoria are no longer needed because a long stay in hospital is not required in many cases, tuberculosis remains a much dreaded disease, so dreaded that patients frequently deceive themselves, either consciously or unconsciously, about its first signs and symptoms. They do not want to admit it, even to themselves, that they could possibly have tuberculosis. They are desperately afraid of what a long period in hospital might do to their lives and those of their loved ones.

Thus Drs. E. Wittkower, H. Durost and W. Laing, McGill University, tells us that some patients delay hospitalization until the disease is far advanced because of unbreakable feelings of duty to their work and families. Others resist hospitalization because of unwillingness to give up close dependent relationships with parent or husband or wife. Still others, unwilling to give up the pleasures of life outside hospital, deceive themselves in a foolish manner about the seriousness of their condition. Some patients refuse necessary surgical procedures because of fear of disfigurement.

Patients leaving hospital or sanatorium against medical advice often do so because they are resentful, many because they feel guilty lying in bed while they think they should be working, others who are tightly bound to their families and dependent for love and affection found at home.

When a patient has been discharged from hospital with his tuberculosis "arrested" and has a relapse requiring his return, it is usually found that he has failed to obey medical advice. Some persons are unwilling to live restricted lives and give up former pleasures; others, feeling an exaggerated sense of responsibility, return to work too soon.

While everyone shows a need for affection and social acceptance, a feeling of dependency, some patients are better able to handle this need more than others. Those whose course in hospital is favorable seem to be the more mature, less likely to swing from love to hate in their relationships with others, and are less concerned about getting attention and more capable of accepting responsibilities.

"Flexibility seems to be essential for successful adjustment to the stress of illness. Flexible patients find substitutes for pleasures that must be abandoned and are, therefore, less frustrated, aggressive and resentful than rigid persons."

A knowledge of the patient's background and personality is of help in deciding upon the best way of telling him his diagnosis and in planning the course of action. A sympathetic awareness of the problems of the individual is necessary to deal with the situation adequately. Conscientious, duty-bound patients should be encouraged to do less than they feel is expected of them and anxious, dependent patients should be encouraged to do more. Rebellious, hostile patients need an opportunity to air resentments without fear of being "paid back" by hospital authorities. We must remember that the prolonged inactivity required in treating tuberculosis is not an easy thing to take. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington—(NEA)—With a new lease on life and a promise of more money support, the "For America" committee is coming out in the open now as a political action group.

For those who may not remember, this is the group that the late Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune and ex-Rep. Hamilton Fish of New York formed more than a year ago to promote their views and policies.

Gen. Robert E. Wood of Sears Roebuck was elected national chairman. Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers, who had been Gen. Douglas MacArthur's public relations expert in Japan, was made national director and promised a million and a quarter dollars for the '54 campaign.

Today Gen. Fellers admits with a laugh that he may have seen the quarter, but he never got the million.

HAM FISH PULLED OUT of the organization, because he wanted to make it an active political group. Col. McCormick wanted to make it merely an educational committee. Since Col. McCormick was paying most of the bills, that's what it remained.

But now Gen. Wood, because of his advancing years, has been made honorary chairman. Dean Clarence Manion of Notre Dame Law School and Dan Smoot, of Dallas, Tex., radio commentator formerly with "Facts Forum" have been made co-chairmen.

A policy committee of 70 from 26 states has been named. Included are such names as Lt. Gen. George D. Stratemeyer, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Gen. Mark Clark, Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer, Eugene Pulliam, ex-Sen. A. W. Hawkes of New Jersey.

THIS LIST IN ITSELF will give a fair idea of what "For America" will stand for, and against. But after two months of arguing among themselves, a policy statement has just been issued. This is being mailed out to a big list, with a coupon suggesting contributions of $1 to $10,000 or more.

On the first page is what the policy committee identifies as "The Threat—"

"International leadership has captured both parties. International leadership threatens American independence, leading us into bankruptcy, involving us in foreign wars and destroying our liberty."

THE "FOR AMERICA" platform then outlines five proposals to overcome this threat. These are the highlights:

Protect U. S. independence—by passing the Bricker amendment and reorganizing the United Nations into a group of non-Communist states, or else force U. S. withdrawal.

Protect the solvency of the U. S.—by passing the Reed-Dirksen amendment to limit congressional taxing power, limiting foreign spending and adopting Hoover commission government reorganization proposals.

Maintain peace with honor—by creating overwhelming air superiority and abolishing conscription.

Safeguard States Rights—by giving complete and exclusive control of education to local governments.

Destroy the Communist Conspiracy—by upholding the Mc-

Carran-Walter Immigration act, abolishing the withholding tax and guaranteeing the right to work and the emancipation of wages from "check-off" dues.

Questions -- Answers

Q—Were other figures besides Indians ever used outside the tobacco shops?

A—Yes. They included likenesses of John Bull or Uncle Sam, or a dandy dressed to draw the dandy trade. In England, a Scotsman in kilts advertised tobacco, and some figures of Scotsmen were used in America.

Q—Is halitosis (bad breath) a disease?

A—No, it is a symptom. The most frequent cause is related to the teeth.

Q—Of what animal family is the okapi a member?

A—The rare okapi of the African jungles belongs to the giraffe family. Its sloping body makes the forelegs look longer than the hind ones, as is true of the giraffe.

Coast Guard Exam To Be Held on February 27-28

Competitive examination for entrance to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy will be held nationwide February 27-28, 1956, it was announced today by Congressman J. Ernest Wharton. Examinations will be given in 109 cities.

He emphasized the opportunity offered young men who choose this four-year course which leads to a bachelor of science degree and a commission as a career officer in America's oldest sea-going service.

"THERE ARE no appointments or geographical quotas for entrance to the Coast Guard Academy," Congressman Wharton said. "I urge all qualified young men who are interested in a worthwhile profession to write for details and applications as soon as possible to Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, D. C. Applications must be postmarked on or before January 15," he said.

A candidate for the next examination for the academy must be single, must have reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1956 and must be in excellent physical condition. A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors assured of being graduated by June 30 are eligible to take the examination if they will have at least 15 credits by that time. All applicants must have three units of English, two of algebra and one each of plane geometry and physics by graduation.

Reds' Trip to India Costly

Britons View Two Top Soviet Leaders as Political Clowns

London, Dec. 3 (P)—Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev have established themselves as political clowns in the minds of many Britons.

Whatever successes the two Russians may have achieved in winning friends and influencing people in Asia, their visit to India has cost them a loss of dignity in British eyes and a drop in whatever popularity they may have had here as peace advocates.

SOME OF THIS tittering may still be going on here if Premier Bulganin and Communist Party boss Khrushchev visit London in the spring, as planned. This visit is already the subject of biting newspaper humor. A cartoon in the Daily Mail showed a pudgy Khrushchev addressing a stiffly formal banquet in London's ancient Guildhall. The Communist boss begins: "Comrade Lord Mayor, reactionary Lords, ladies and imperialist Fascist warmongers." Bulganin and a guest resembling Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red Dean" of Canterbury, look pleased.

Historian Alan Taylor, a columnist in the Laborite Daily Herald, referred to the Russians as "the two knockabout comedians who have just been touring India."

TAYLOR DEPLORED the suggestion that it would be better if Bulganin and Khrushchev did not come to London in view of their attacks on the west before Indian audiences.

"On the contrary," Taylor wrote, "I can hardly wait to hear some new pearls of their wisdom."

The visit to India produced an odd sight here on the way the British office gives out news. Commenting on a statement by Bulganin that Russia's foreign policy is based on noninterference in the affairs of other states, Peter Matthews, as foreign office spokesman, said the Russian view "seemed thoroughly hypocritical." That was on Nov. 22.

LETTERS TO editors and editorialists showed a wide measure of British agreement with Matthews' remark. Some complained he "had been guilty of an understatement."

Russia protested. Britain countered with a protest of her own, taking exception to a statement by Khrushchev in Bombay that the Americans, British and French had "sent the troops of Hitlerite Germany" against Russia in 1941. The foreign office pointed out that was an implied insult to Prime Minister Eden, a member of the Churchill government.

But the news setup at the Foreign Office will be changed. Instead of Matthews, Sir George Young, head of the news department, or his first assistant, Anthony Moore, will do the talking at news conferences.

THE CHANGE was not to meet the Soviet protest as much as to conform to the requirements of the British parliamentary system. Policy statements and references to governmental figures in foreign countries are supposed to be made first by a government spokesman in the House of Commons. There the opposition can question the government about them and they can be debated.

The government admitted Matthews, a civil servant, should not have made such a statement outside of Parliament. But Eden told the House:

"I have been very careful not to deal with the merits of the answer at all."

THUS HE DID not retract the charge of hypocrisy. Subsequently Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan told the House he did not "attach much blame" to Matthews.

The Daily Express published a cartoon captioned "a quick guide on how to describe public figures safely." The cartoon suggested Stalin be referred to as "an ex-enthusiast for abolition of capital punishment."

The implication was clear the past supported Matthews' views.

Promotions Are Featured During Pack 19 Meeting

Advancements in the form of two Lion badges, a Wolf badge, and two Bobcat pins highlighted the monthly meeting of the A. Unit of Cub Pack 19 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home, 552 Delaware avenue, Wednesday.

Entertainment for the evening, in conjunction with the theme of the month, was supplied through the planning of the Covey family. Each of the three dens presented a display on "America the Beautiful," and a motion picture concerning Washington, D. C. was shown by the Aircraft Camera Shop.

FOLLOWING the opening flag ceremony by Den 2, under the direction of Den Chiefs David W. Eighthme and Daniel Devine, miniature American flags were presented to the following cubs and leaders for their part in the Veteran's Day ceremonies:

Den Mothers Betty Eighthme and Lucille Bonomo; Den Chiefs David Eighthme, Phillips Eighthme and James Connelly; Cub Scouts Sahloff, Schleede, O. Bollin, C. Bollin, Herdman, Fisk, Eighthme, Covey, Belinski, Geary, Bonomo, Connelly.

INDUCTED into the pack through the medium of an Indian ceremony were Charles Bollin and Randall Belinski.

FOLLOWING a presentation of the Thanksgiving Good Will project by a representative of each den the awards for the evening were given:

Den 1, Betty Eighthme den mother, 100 per cent awards for the month, Roger Sahloff, lion badge and gold arrow; Charles Bollin, wolf badge and gold arrow; LeRoy Hamilton, lion badge, gold arrow, two silver arrows; Richard Nason, gold and silver arrows; silver arrows each to Oscar Bollin, John Schleede, Charles Bonomo and James Herdman.

Den 2, Lucille Bonomo den mother; John Fisk, two silver arrows; silver arrow each to Kerry Covey and Douglas Eighthme.

Den 3, Lillian Rittie den mother; Edward Hoffman, gold arrow; silver arrow each to Mi-

Cub Scout Pack 7 Observes America Theme at Meeting

The theme, America the Beautiful, was observed by the Cub Scouts of Pack 7, St. John's Church who entertained parents and friends at their recent monthly pack meeting.

As part of the program the Cub Scouts presented a play and showed a map project related to the theme.

THE PLAY, "The First Thanksgiving" was offered by Den 3 under the supervision of Den Mother Mrs. Morgan Ryan. Those participating were Danny McGrane, Bobby Peebles and Danny Ryan as Indians; Billy McDermott, Bobby Ploss and Jeffrey Scott as Pilgrims. Terry Ryan played the part of Priscilla. All were in appropriate costume.

Den 1 with Den Mother Mrs. William Palen in charge displayed a large map of New York showing Indian trails, water routes and reservations. Miniature canoes, trees, teepees, Indian horses with Indians and mountain ranges made from clay decorated the map. Cub Scouts who worked on the project included Bobby Adams, Bobby Finch, Chester Joy, Billy Moser, Billy Palen, Robert Raskowski, Robert Schaffner and John Smith.

VERNON BEESMER had charge of the formal ceremonies which were opened with a color guard presentation by Den 2 consisting of Donald Beesmer, Lester Markle and Gary Lawton.

The following awards and advancements were presented by Mr. Beesmer: Gary Lawton, denner stripes and Lion badge; Donald Beesmer, assistant denner stripes and Lion badge; Robert Eck, Lion badge; Lester Markle, Lion badge; Donald Lawton, denner badge; Bobby Peebles, Lion badge; and Jansen Ward, den chief of Den 4, den chief cord.

Refreshments were served by Den 1.

Glenn Connelly, Ronald Rittie, chael Bonomo, Gregory Munson, The pack meeting was closed with the serving of refreshments by Den 2.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

SOCIETIES • CLUBS • PERSONALS

Women's Club at YW
To Hear Mrs. RignallMRS. RAYMOND RIGNALL
BY DOROTHY NAREL
Society Editor

Mrs. Raymond Rignall, recently returned to the Kingston area with her husband, and son, Charles, from La Pas, Bolivia where Mr. Rignall acts in the capacity of technical director of rural education with the U. S. Education Mission, will speak to the Women's Club of the YWCA Thursday, Dec. 8 at 2:30 p. m. in the YW building, 209 Clinton avenue. Her topic will be, "Women of La Pas."

The Women's Club is certainly in for a real treat because Mrs. Rignall, in a personal interest, proved to be most interesting and her stories about life in La Pas, Bolivia were fascinating. After spending four years in Bolivia, this being the second furlough for the Rignalls, Mrs. Rignall feels that scheduling her time according to exact minutes and hours is more difficult than changing from the high altitude of La Pas, some 12,500 feet above sea level, to the Hudson Valley. In La Pas, says Mrs. Rignall, the people feel that "all you have in life is time and you might as well make the most of it." Therefore, Bolivians lead a calm and friendly untroubled life, taking two-hour lunch periods, tea and coffee "breaks" and never brush friends off with a quick "hello" but instead stop and enjoy a full conversation. This type of life is difficult for most Americans to understand, but as Mrs. Rignall said, "I've yet to learn of a Bolivian developing ulcers."

One other interesting point brought out was the fact that because of the time element, if there is to be a dance or any other social affair, the starting time will be shown differently on the American posters and the Bolivian posters. The hour for the Americans would be as an example, 8:30 p. m., whereas the hour for the Bolivians would be 6:30 p. m. since they would not be expected to arrive until 8:30 p. m. If the hour stated was 8:30 p. m. they would arrive about 10:30 p. m., just when the party is about over.

Social life in La Pas, for Mrs. Rignall, is full and not too different from the social life of a young matron in one of America's small communities. Mrs. Rignall is a member of the auxiliary of the American Clinic, an organization sponsored by the Methodist Mission Board, and sews for them at least once a month. She is also a member of the Foreign Legion, another social service group, composed of all women whose husbands work for other governments. Government representatives would include France, Italy, Britain and Germany. Twice a year, the American women sponsor a tea at the TB hospital and also belong to the Book Club. In the latter organization, each member buys two best sellers and then the books are rotated among the 50 members.

"Women in La Pas, spend a great deal more time with their children because there are no television sets in the area," said Mrs. Rignall. And children's studies are more closely supervised.

In her talk before the Women's Club, Mrs. Rignall will also cover such points as food shopping, dress and culture of this beautiful country.

Mr. and Mrs. Rignall will return to La Pas in February.

Marilyn Reulein Weds
Henry J. Schroeder

The marriage of Miss Marilyn Ann Reulein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seville S. Reulein, of 120 Irving Place, Ithaca, and Henry Joseph Schroeder 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Schroeder of Barclay Heights, Saugerties, took place at 11:00 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 12, in Anabel Taylor Chapel, Cornell University. The Rev. Donald M. Cleary performed the double ring ceremony and the Rev. Charles G. Langworthy was celebrant of the nuptial Mass.

Banked palms formed the background for baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and pompons on either side of the altar. White satin bows centered with pink rosebuds were pew markers. Miss Mary Clines, organist, played Kreckl's "Processional," Corelli's "Prelude in F" and "Kyrie," Mozart's "Alleluia," DuBois' "Communion," Frydinger's "Meditation," Von Weber's "Prayer" and Clark's "Recession."

Jack Burns, soloist sang Elgar's "Ave Verbum," Franck's "Panis Angelicus" and Scheel's "The Lord's Prayer." The bride, escorted by her father, wore a princess style gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle with a fitted basque bodice, a V neckline rolling back to a small stand-up collar and long pointed sleeves. Her finger-ring veil of imported illusion net was attached to a matching lace cap and she wore a single strand of cultured pearls. The long full skirt tapered to a chapel train. She carried a prayer book with mother of pearl covers, a gift of the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Henry J. Schroeder, and a cascade bouquet of orchids, stephanotis and variegated ivy centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Ernest Lutzken of Ithaca was matron of honor. She wore a princess style, waltz-length gown of Arcady blue velvet with a portrait neckline. Her headband was a braided tiara of matching velvet. She carried a bouquet of sun-ray pompons with bronze accents. The bridesmaids were Miss Gail Manning and Miss Margaret McCann of Ithaca. They wore princess style, waltz-length gowns of Windsor blue velvet with matching braided headbands. They carried bouquets of yellow pompons accented with blue sweet peas.

The flower girls were Connie and Cathie Crawford, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Leland R. Crawford Jr. of Ithaca. They wore Arcady blue velvet dresses and carried nosegays of yellow pompons and light blue delphinium. They also wore headbands of these same flowers.

Ernest Lutzken of Ithaca was best man. Seville S. Reulein Jr. of Ithaca, the bride's brother, Robert F. Schroeder of New York City, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Richard Zellman of Saugerties were ushers. The wedding breakfast and reception were held at Statler Club, where the bride's table and refreshment tables were decorated with greens and fall chrysanthemums carrying out the theme of the attendant's bouquets.

For her wedding trip to Illinois, the bride wore a charcoal wool dress with velvet collar and cuffs, black accessories and her bridal orchid.

Mrs. Schroeder was graduated from Cascadia Preparatory School, Class of 1953 and attended Illinois College. She is employed as a secretary at the North American Accident Insurance Company. The bridegroom was graduated from Saugerties High School and the College of Agriculture, Cornell University, Class of 1953. He was discharged from the U. S. Army on Oct. 31 as a first lieutenant. Mr. Schroeder plans to do graduate work at Cornell University.

Prenuptial parties for the bride were a variety shower given by the bride's attendants at the home of Miss Gail Manning, a dinner and personal shower by her co-workers, a dinner party at Statler Club given by Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Brainard and a rehearsal dinner given by the bride's parents at the Taughannock Farms Inn.

After November 28, Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder will reside in Ithaca.

Story of St. Nicholas and Black Peter
Will be Presented by Old Dutch Church

The Old Dutch Church will again bring St. Nicholas and Black Peter to the community Monday evening, Dec. 5. This year the presentation will be more pictorial than previously. In the churchyard at the corner of Main and Wall streets, at 7 p. m. a typical Dutch family scene will be portrayed.

The characters will be in Dutch costume and they will enact the preparations for the saint's visit. When the preparations are finished the mother will tell the story of the original St. Nicholas. At approximately 7:15 p. m., the good saint and his servant will arrive at the scene and after visiting with the family, will distribute candy to all the children waiting to see him. Previous to his arrival at the church St. Nicholas will be leaving the armory at 6:30 and go to the church by way of Roosevelt avenue, Foxhall to Broadway, up Broadway to the Governor Clinton Hotel and then over Main street to the church. When the first Dutch settlers came to New Amsterdam, the image of St. Nicholas was on the deck of the ship. Four hundred of years he had been the patron saint of children, so that it was natural that he should come to the new world with all the other most treasured possessions of the travellers. Black Peter carries willow switches to whip the naughty children but the Saint distributes candy and presents to all the good ones. The festival of St. Nicholas was observed in the Hudson valley up until the end of the 19th century on the traditional December 5 and 6 but the custom was eventually combined with the holy day, December 25. The Old Dutch Church revived the custom for Kingston seven years ago.

Participants in the Dutch family scene are: Mrs. Jim Cook, Mrs. Hugo Schlatter, Russell Edwards Sr., Alice Yosman, Linda and Nancy Sergeant, Jimmy Barger and Toni Flood, David Sergeant. Property committee includes Raymond Steward, Mrs. William Engelen, Gary Johnston, David Tailleu, Teddy Feck, Dirk and Jan Oudemool, Schuyler W. Wied. The project is under the direction of Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool.

The community is cordially invited to participate in this Festival of St. Nicholas.

Urges Essential
Studies for All
In High Schools

Wellesville, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—New York state's public high schools may be "crowding upon students too many things" and passing over some essentials to a sound education, a top Republican legislator says.

Austin W. Erwin, Genesee Republican who heads the Senate Finance Committee, said Thursday night he was "inclined" to believe the state's secondary schools "may be trying to do too much."

Addressing a meeting of the Wellesville Teachers Assn., Erwin declared:

"ONE OF THE important questions to be determined as education spending piles up, is whether our high schools are crowding upon students too many things... at the expense of some essentials to a sound education."

Erwin said the National Manpower Council had recommended recently that high schools "confine themselves to giving each student 'the fundamentals of a good education' and leave specialized training to business and the professions."

The report "struck me like a breath of fresh air," Erwin said. The senator said he favored every dollar of "necessary spending" for schools and he called adequate teachers' salaries "imperative."

"ARE WE frittering away on luxury construction money which could be used... for salary adjustments which would attract and hold qualified teachers?" Erwin asked. "Is too much money, which should be building classrooms, going into swimming pools and extravagantly planned athletic fields?"

Erwin noted that more than half of the state's billion-dollar-plus budget is used for local assistance, of which more than half goes for education.

"Don't forget that the fellow whose school district taxes are going up... also provides his share of the tax dollars for the state aid that channels back to his district. It all comes out of the same pocket."

Marine Recruiter
Is Assigned Here

T/SGT. W. L. STOWELL

Marine TSgt. Winford L. Stowell has recently been assigned as the U. S. Marine Corps recruiter for Ulster county. This will again make available in this area a representative of the U. S. Marine Corps and the recruiting office in the main post office building will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

PRIOR TO HIS enlistment in the Marine Corps in 1941, TSgt. Stowell lived in Syracuse. He was sent to boot camp at Parris Island, S. C. and upon completion of training was transferred outside the continental limits of the U. S. He visited many countries such as Iceland, England and many South and Central American countries.

He was in Kingston, Jamaica when World War 2 started and was transferred to Puerto Rico to provide security for that American possession. Soon thereafter he was sent to the First Marine Division then fighting its bitter island campaigns against the Japanese and served with the famous 5th Marine Regiment of that division. After the treaty was signed TSgt. Stowell was sent to China and served in many cities such as Peking, Tientsin and Tsingtau performing varied and many different duties. He was transferred to the U. S. in 1949 and stationed at the Naval Supply Depot, Scotia and later was an instructor at the Officers Candidate School in Quantico, Va.

TSgt. STOWELL once again served with the 5th Marine Regiment of the First Marine Division in Korea early in 1953 and later participated in Operation Big Switch. He was rotated to the U. S. in 1954 and assigned duty with the famed Second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C. He was later transferred to Parris Island, S. C. where he completed a six-week course at recruiter's school in October 1955. TSgt. Stowell has his wife, Elva I. Stowell and son, Douglas with him, and after traveling extensively are all very happy to arrive in "such a friendly city as Kingston," and are looking forward to making many friends throughout this community.

Saugerties Grade
Assembly Hears
Of Opportunities

A divided assembly program was presented at Saugerties High School Wednesday. The girls in grades nine through 12 enjoyed a program concerned with occupations and educational opportunities. Five speakers discussed occupations or advanced education. At the same time the boys learned about the Army reserve program.

Mrs. Milton Armstrong, registered nurse, discussed nurses' training, pay and rewards, and indicated the need for nurses.

In describing secretarial work, Mrs. Harold Trumbour, secretary, said that there are many opportunities available since there are so many types of concerns for which one can work. She stressed the importance of individual responsibility in this work. Also, she urged the girls not to overlook local opportunities for work.

TEACHING WAS discussed by two speakers. Miss May Evans, grade supervisor, describing the work of the elementary teachers, showed that teaching is not all hard work but has many rewarding aspects. She pointed out that teachers' salaries are rising and that the financial outlook has improved considerably. Miss Agnes Sheff, English teacher gave a brief description of secondary teaching, especially stressing that a great deal of pleasure can be gained from teaching.

Miss Frances Larned, director of guidance, showing that college is not the only opportunity available for advanced education, mentioned types of occupations for which six months, one two or three years of advanced education would be required.

THE BOYS in grades nine through 12 had the new Army reserve program described for them in their assembly. Capt. Wayne Reynolds described the features of the new program, claiming that through it a young

Women's Club at YW To Hear Mrs. Rignall

MRS. RAYMOND RIGNALL
BY DOROTHY NAREL
Society Editor

Mrs. Raymond Rignall, recently returned to the Kingston area with her husband, and son, Charles, from La Pas, Bolivia where Mr. Rignall acts in the capacity of technical director of rural education with the U. S. Education Mission, will speak to the Women's Club of the YWCA Thursday, Dec. 8 at 2:30 p. m. in the YW building, 209 Clinton avenue. Her topic will be, "Women of La Pas."

The Women's Club is certainly in for a real treat because Mrs. Rignall, in a personal interview, proved to be most interesting and her stories about life in La Pas, Bolivia were fascinating. After spending four years in Bolivia, this being the second furlough for the Rignalls, Mrs. Rignall feels that scheduling her time according to exact minutes and hours is more difficult than changing from the high altitude of La Pas, some 12,500 feet above sea level, to the Hudson Valley. In La Pas says Mrs. Rignall, the people feel that "all you have in life is time and you might as well make the most of it." Therefore, Bolivians lead a calm and friendly untroubled life, taking two-hour lunch periods, tea and coffee "breaks" and never brush friends off with a quick "hello" but instead stop and enjoy a full conversation. This type of life is difficult for most Americans to understand, but as Mrs. Rignall said, "I've yet to learn of a Bolivian developing ulcers."

One other interesting point brought out was the fact that because of the time element, if there is to be a dance or any other social affair, the starting time will be shown differently on the American posters and the Bolivian posters. The hour for the Americans would be as, for example, 8:30 p. m., whereas the hour for the Bolivians would be 6:30 p. m. since they would not be expected to arrive until 8:30 p. m. If the hour stated was 8:30 p. m., they would arrive about 10:30 p. m., just when the party is about over.

Social life in La Pas, for Mrs. Rignall, is full and not too different than the social life of a young matron in one of America's small communities. Mrs. Rignall is a member of the auxiliary of the American Clinic, an organization sponsored by the Methodist Mission Board, and sews for them at least once a month. She is also a member of the Foreign Legion, another social service group, composed of all women whose husbands work for other governments. Governments represented would include France, Italy, Britain and Germany. Twice a year, the American women sponsor a tea at the TB hospital and also belong to the Book Club. In the latter organization, each member buys two best sellers and then the books are rotated among the 50 members.

"Women in La Pas, spend a great deal more time with their children because there is no television sets in the area," said Mrs. Rignall. And children's studies are more closely supervised.

In her talk before the Women's Club, Mrs. Rignall will also cover such points as food shopping, dress and culture of this beautiful country.

Mr. and Mrs. Rignall will return to La Pas in February.

Marilyn Reulein Weds Henry J. Schroeder

The marriage of Miss Marilyn Ann Reulein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seville S. Reulein, of 120 Irving Place, Ithaca, and Henry Joseph Schroeder 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Schroeder of Barclay Heights, Saugerties, took place at 11:00 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 12, in Anabel Taylor Chapel, Cornell University. The Rev. Donald M. Cleary performed the double ring ceremony and the Rev. Charles G. Langworthy was celebrant of the nuptial Mass.

Banked palms formed the background for baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and pompons on either side of the altar. White satin bows centered with pink rosebuds were pew markers. Miss Mary Clines, organist, played Kreckel's "Processional," Corelli's "Prelude in F," Voss, "Kyrie," Mozart's "Alleluia," DuBois' "Communion," Frysinger's "Meditation," Von Weber's "Prayer" and Clark's "Recession."

Jack Burns, soloist sang Elgar's "Ave Verum," Franck's "Panis Angelicus" and Scheel's "The Lord's Prayer." The bride, escorted by her father, wore a princess style gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta with a fitted basque bodice, a V neckline rolling back to a small stand-up collar and long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion net was attached to a matching lace cap and she wore a single strand of cultured pearls. The long full skirt tapered to a chapel train. She carried a prayer book with mother of pearl covers, a gift of the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Henry J. Schroeder, and a cascade bouquet of orchids, stephanotis and variegated ivy centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Ernest Lutzken of Ithaca was matron of honor. She wore a princess style, waist-length gown of Arcady blue velvet with a portrait neckline. Her headband was a braided tiara of matching velvet. She carried a bouquet of sun-ray pompons with bronze accents.

The bridesmaids were Miss Gail Manning and Miss Margaret McCann of Ithaca. They wore princess style, waist-length gowns of Windsor blue velvet with matching braided headbands. They carried bouquets of yellow pompons accented with white ribbons.

The flower girls were Connie and Cathie Crawford, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Leland R. Crawford Jr. of Ithaca. They wore Arcady blue velvet dresses and carried nosegays of yellow pompons and light blue delphinium. They also wore headbands of these same flowers.

Ernest Lutzken of Ithaca was best man. Seville S. Reulein Jr. of Ithaca, the bride's brother, Robert F. Schroeder of New York City, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Richard Zeilman of Saugerties were ushers.

The wedding breakfast and reception were held at Statler Club, where the bride's table and refreshment tables were decorated with greens and fall chrysanthemums carrying out the theme of the attendant's bouquets.

For her wedding trip to Illinois, the bride wore a charcoal wool dress with velvet collar and cuffs, black accessories and her bridal orchid.

Mrs. Schroeder was graduated from Cascadia Preparatory School, Class of 1953 and attended Illinois College. She is employed as a secretary at the North American Accident Insurance Company.

The bridegroom was graduated from Saugerties High School and the College of Agriculture, Cornell University, Class of 1953. He was discharged from the U. S. Army on Oct. 31 as a first lieutenant. Mr. Schroeder plans to do graduate work at Cornell University.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride were a variety shower given by the bride's attendants at the home of Miss Gail Manning, a dinner and personal shower by her co-workers, a dinner party at Statler Club given by Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Brainard and a rehearsal dinner given by the bride's parents at the Taughannock Farms Inn.

After November 28, Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder will reside in Ithaca.

California has more automobiles than any other state—4,879,210—with New York second—3,893,980.

Story of St. Nicholas and Black Peter Will be Presented by Old Dutch Church

The Old Dutch Church will again bring St. Nicholas and Black Peter to the community Monday evening, Dec. 5. This year the presentation will be more pictorial than previously. In the churchyard at the corner of Main and Wall streets, at 7 p. m. a typical Dutch family scene will be portrayed.

The characters will be in Dutch costume and they will enact the preparations for the saint's visit. When the preparations are finished the mother will tell the story of the original St. Nicholas. At approximately 7:15 p. m., the good saint and his servant will arrive at the scene and after visiting with the family, will distribute candy to all the children waiting to see him. Previous to his arrival at the church St. Nicholas will be leaving the armory at 6:30 and go to the church by way of Roosevelt avenue, Foxhall to Broadway, up Broadway to the Governor Clinton Hotel and then over Main street to the church. When the first Dutch settlers came to New Amsterdam, the image of St. Nicholas was on the deck of the ship. Four hundred of years he had been the

Urges Essential Studies for All In High Schools

Wellesville, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—New York state's public high schools may be "crowding upon students too many things" and passing over some essentials to a sound education, a top Republican legislator says.

Austin W. Erwin, Genesee Republican who heads the Senate Finance Committee, said Thursday night he was "inclined to believe" the state's secondary schools "may be trying to do too much."

Addressing a meeting of the Wellesville Teachers Assn., Erwin declared:

"ONE OF the important questions to be determined as education spending piles up, is whether our high schools are crowding upon students too many things... at the expense of some essentials to a sound education."

Erwin said the National Manpower Council had recommended recently that high schools "confine themselves to giving each student 'the fundamentals of a good education' and leave specialized training to business and the professions."

The report "struck me like a breath of fresh air," Erwin said. The senator said he favored every dollar of "necessary spending" for schools and he called adequate teachers' salaries "imperative."

"ARE WE frittering away on luxury construction money which could be used... for salary adjustments which would attract and hold qualified teachers?" Erwin asked. "Is too much money, which should be building classrooms, going into swimming pools and extravagantly planned athletic fields?"

Erwin noted that more than half of the state's billion-dollar-plus budget is used for local assistance, of which more than half goes for education.

"Don't forget that the fellow whose school district taxes are going up... also provides his share of the tax dollars for the state aid that channels back to his district. It all comes out of the same pocket."

Brighten Dingy Nursery Screen

A major necessity for any nursery is a sturdy screen that's easy to keep clean, to shield crib or bathinette from drafts.

It's easy to transform a dingy old screen into a gay decorative asset for baby's room, by covering it with one of the new plastic printed fabrics in whimsical nursery designs. The fabric is sold by the yard, and may be used for playpen pads, crib bumpers and other uses.

To cover a screen, measure accurately and cut two pieces of fabric for each panel, one for each side. Cut fabric about a half-inch narrower than the panels, so that they may be held firmly in place by strips of colored adhesive tape which will cover not only the edge of the fabric and rim of the screen, but will stick along the edge of each panel as well.

It's the work of only a few minutes to cut the fabric and tape in place.

Take Care of Diamonds

Diamonds scratch one another even though other jewels cannot scratch them, and they may be chipped or broken along the grain line by a severe blow. So don't bang diamonds against hard surfaces, and do not jumble them together in your jewel box or handbag, the Jewelry Industry Council advises. If unable to secure the professional cleaning and special inspection service for customers given by most jewelers without charge, you may clean a diamond with soap and hot water, using a soft eyeshadow brush and a rinse in tepid water. Then dip the diamond in alcohol to cut the remaining soap film, and drain on cleansing tissue. And, by the way, don't subject diamonds to extremes of heat and cold. Internal flaws may appear or unnoticed ones may be enlarged.

For Cooling Effect

To make a house seem cool even when it isn't, the Decorative Fabrics Institute in New York recommends the use of cool colors for slip covers—tints of green, blue or gray, or bright floral prints. The institute also favors crisp white curtains, fresh flowers around the house, and white decorative touches throughout.

Washing Slip Covers

The first step in washing slip covers is to shake and brush them well along the seams to remove loose dust.

Constant Use Is Good for Silver

Silverware should be kept in daily use—and not only for the pleasure you get from its luminosity, color, and warmth. The fact is, constant use is good for it.

Wear, as such, is virtually imperceptible over the years, and the idea of putting silver away for special occasions is not only provincial and out-of-date, but completely in error. Silversmiths all point out that the more silver is used, the more beautiful it will become. If put away, it may tarnish; through use it gains luster and patina and a deeper warmth of tone.

This matter of constant use is so important that the Jewelry Industry Council suggests that when you have more pieces than the number in your family calls for each day, try to use different pieces in rotation to avoid tarnish, and to keep an identical quality of finish on all pieces in your service.

Storage Cabinets For a Bedroom

Problem: What to do about a small, drab bedroom that needs more drawer and closet space, and more decorative "oomph"?

A good workable solution is suggested in the sketch. The bed is flanked by roomy wardrobe and drawer units for clothing, linens, and blankets. These are stock pine cabinets which can be bought either fully assembled or "knocked down" for do-it-yourself assembly and installation.

A couple of pieces of pine are cut to size to serve as a headboard for books, radio, lamp, flowers and knickknacks. A mirror, secured to the wall between the cabinets, extends from the headboard to the top of the cabinets. The cabinets and headboard may be painted or stained to suit the color scheme of the room, or simply clear-varnished to reveal the natural-grain beauty of the wood.

Rubber in New Floor Material

Liquid rubber and a special cement team up to form a new flooring material which "gives" without cracking under heavy loads.

"Latitec" is a versatile construction material. It deadens shock and noise, resists the action of alkalis and mild acids, and offers a non-slip quality. It also is waterproof.

It's so flexible that a long, thin slab when hardened can be bent into a circle by hand. The concrete-rubber mix is a surface coating which may be used either in new installations or in repair work. It comes in two parts—the powder and a liquid rubber—and is prepared like regular concrete.

THE CROWLEY

Ideal for a Young And Growing Family

Rooms ..... Eight
Bedrooms ..... Five Closets ..... Nine
Cubage:
House ..... 24,500 ft.
Garage ..... 7,770 ft.
Dimensions ..... 33'x26'

Wide clapboards and stones combine to make a distinctive exterior finish completely in harmony with the architecture of "The Crowley." Either a plain wood or masonry finish could be used with attractive results if you do not care for a combination exterior. Blinds, the round window in the bathroom, the three windowed bay in the living room and the wide chimney all provide additional decorative appeal for the house exterior.

Measuring 33'x26', "The Crowley" is built along simple, uncluttered lines and demands simple landscaping. Cubage of the main house is 24,500 feet. Overall dimensions are 33'x26'. The garage wing has a cubage of 7,770 feet.

The front door opens on a small hall that contains both a coat closet in which to hang guests' wraps and a regular closet in which you can store your family's rain gear, or any other items which could most conveniently be kept in this section of your home.

You'll find the lavatory, placed to the right off the hallway, most convenient both for your guests and for your family. If you do not want to finish the second floor until some future date when you have need of the extra room, the lavatory can double as a bathroom.

Handsome Living Room
To the right, also opening off the entry hall, is the spacious and handsome living room. The three windowed bay in the front wall and the large fireplace in the right wall are the decorative highspots of the room. Both features also have practical values for the windows provide lots of extra light, sunshine and ventilation for the room; the fireplace will prove well worth the space it occupies on many a chilly day or evening.

Bookshelves, built-in at either side of the fireplace, further enhance the decorative charms of this section of the room. They'll also help you to keep the room uncluttered by providing a regular, and convenient storage spot for your books. Against the unbroken section of back wall would make an excellent location for your television set.

The den or guest bedroom is located to the left off the living room. Measuring 13' by 11' 6", the room is assured of good light and cross ventilation through the three windows in the back wall. You can easily and conveniently use this as a regular bedroom if you do not want to finish the second floor at the time the house is built.

China Closets
Opening off the living room, the dining room is a pleasant well-lighted room with ample space for attractive arrangement of your dining room furniture. The built-in china closet in the left back corner of the room is an ideal storage and display spot for your fine china and glassware. Build in drawers at the bottom of the cabinet as a storage spot for your table linen. And, be sure to take advantage of the light and view provided by the three windows in the right wall when arranging your dining table and chairs.

is designed to serve as the master bedroom. The right front bedroom measures 12'6" x 11'.

Modern Bath
An all modern bath, complete with tub and shower, separates the two bedrooms in the right wing of the second floor. Measurements of the right back bedroom are 13'6" x 9' while those of the left back bedroom are 13'6" x 12'6". A large linen closet is conveniently placed between the two back bedrooms and opens on the connecting hallway.

Complete plans for this home are available. Address requests (mentioning name of home) to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. KG, 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I.

Locket for Remembrance

The present revival in the wearing of gold lockets strikes a sentimental note in many and a touch of nostalgia in others. The old-fashioned heart-shaped locket stays with us because sentiment remains the same as always. For within its covers is the picture of a loved one, not for the world to see, but just the wearer. An exception was Queen Victoria, who after the death of Albert, wore a miniature of him in an open locket.

Good Mortar Mix

One expert suggests the following as a good all-around mortar mix for use in building out-door walls of brick or concrete block: Two parts of cement, nine parts graded sand and one part hydrated lime. That's about enough to lay 100 bricks. Be sure to specify "sharp" sand when ordering. The sand should have no dirt in it whatsoever.

Wise Counsel

If your bank or mortgage institution doesn't seem too eager to help finance the purchase of a new home, it's probably because the home isn't worth it. Always listen to the advice of these groups; a sound knowledge of housing is part of their business.

No Cause for Alarm

Don't worry about blue or brown stains on new lumber. These stains are not a sign of decay or damage from insects and lumber of this type will work and take paint just as well as unstained lumber.

Gift Buyers Know

What's What These Days

Gift buyers, according to the Jewelry Industry Council, are not the rattlebrain shoppers they are sometimes believed to be. Six out of ten know exactly what they're going to buy when they

In a survey of gift-giving habits made by the council, inquiries were made concerning the reasons back of these definite decisions. Some interesting facts were turned up. About a third of the givers are "tipped off" by direct hints as to wishes of recipients. Half that many are informed in other ways concerning recipients' needs.

In this same survey, jewelry-store merchandise led in the list of gifts "best liked" by recipients. Presents which givers liked best to give also came in the jewelry-store classification.

A SPECIAL EVENT for the ladies will also be held December 7 with a big show. The ladies gift program will include gift wrapping, Christmas cooking, Christmas decorating, candle whipping and making your own cards.

The Grahamsville Choral Society will present appropriate music and holiday singing.

The committee announced that in addition to the coffee there will be refreshments and also a surprise attraction. This the fourth of a series is sponsored by the Tri-Valley Adult Education Department.

Fort Dix Will Halt Training for Holidays

Master Sergeant Frank J. Carr in charge of the Kingston Army recruiting office, City Hall announced that for the first time in the recent history of Fort Dix, N. J. all basic training activities and the maximum of other assigned duties will be suspended during the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

In accordance with the policy to be as liberal as possible in granting leaves and passes to military personnel, training at Fort Dix will cease at 5 p. m. December 21 and will resume at 8 a. m. January 3.

Under the Army-wide policy, operating personnel also will be encouraged to take maximum advantage of the curtailment of activities on post and request leave. However, working staffs for guard and the care of the sick will be required as in training units. Sergeant Carr said that postponement of training activities would not affect the Army's ability to carry out its assigned mission.

December inductees will be drafted from December 1 through December 10 to fill the normal monthly quota.

IBM Engineer Is At Purdue Institute

Lafayette, Ind., Nv. 29—Fourteen industrial engineers from eight states are attending a two-weeks packaging institute at Purdue University. The first part of the short course ends December 9; but the group will return to the campus after the first of the year for two additional weeks of training.

Enrollees in the institute include Berrien B. Blemker, IBM Corporation, Kingston, N. Y.

Purdue has taken the lead in studying the specialized problems of packaging and handling goods which are of interest to manufacturers, transportation companies, and the armed forces.

Among the topics being considered are shock and vibration, stress and strain, behavior of materials, loss and damage prevention, boxes and crates, fibro-board containers, cushioning materials, fasteners, moisture control, preservatives, chemicals, molds and fungus radioactive materials, sales appeal and world shipments.

Local Synagogues Schedule Special Chanuko Services

A Chanuko service with sermon will be held at Temple Emanuel Friday, Dec. 9 according to an announcement by Herbert I. Bloom, rabbi.

A children's Chanuko party will take place on Sunday, Dec. 11 at 3 p. m. at the social hall of the Temple. A pre-confirmation class party will be held Thursday, Dec. 15 at Rabbi Bloom's home.

CHANUKO, THE Jewish holiday commemorating the history's first uprising on behalf of religious liberty begins at sunset, Friday, Dec. 9 and continues for a period of eight days according to the Commission on Information About Judaism of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and the Central Conference of American Rabbis who offer the meaning and explanation of the "Feast of Lights" as follows:

"A Hebrew word meaning dedication, Chanuko recalls the chronicle of the Maccabees, fighting Jews who about 170 years before the Christian era refused to bow down to idols. Judea was then governed by a Greco-Syrian emperor, Antiochus, who sought to abolish Judaism. Resistance by the people under the leadership of a priest named Mattathias and his five sons, known as the Maccabees, resulted in a guerrilla war which ultimately brought defeat to the pagans.

"AFTER THE victory, the Jews reconsecrated the Temple which had been desecrated. According to legend, oil for the altar light, apparently enough for one day lasted for eight.

"Hence, the holiday is celebrated for eight days, with an additional candle blessed each night. The crescendo of light symbolizes the added strength which can come to those who fight for a sacred cause. The special Chanuko candelabrum is known as the Menorah.

"The holiday is marked by synagogue services, religious school plays, gift-giving, parties and a home ceremony in which lights are blessed and the festival hymn, "Rock of Ages" is sung. Gifts for the poor are also a part of the holiday observance.

When North opened the bidding with one no-trump in today's hand he showed just about his full strength. This opening bid shows balanced distribution with 16 to 18 points in high-card strength. When a player has shown his full strength, he can sit back and let his partner do the work. If the partner fails to act, there may be a good reason for his silence.

When today's hand was played, South didn't hear his partner keeping quiet. North told his story a second time when he doubled two diamonds; and he told it a third time when he bid three spades. This time the axe fell.

The defenders, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Glick of Miami Shores, Fla., picked the hand as clean as a whistle. This wasn't surprising, since both rank among the country's foremost players.

Mrs. Glick opened the singleton club. Mr. Glick won with the ace and returned the nine of clubs, choosing this card to request a return in a high-ranking suit.

Mrs. Glick ruffed and obediently returned a low heart. East won with the king and returned the four of clubs to ask for a return in a low suit. It was now clear that East had both of the red aces.

Mrs. Glick ruffed again and returned the queen of diamonds. Dummy put up the king, and East won with the ace. Now Mrs. Glick carefully returned a diamond before trying to give his partner another club ruff. Mrs. Glick won with the jack of diamonds and just as carefully cashed the queen of hearts before leading to the ace of hearts.

This careful sequence of plays reduced South to his five trumps and left dummy with four trumps and a club. Now Mr. Glick led another club, allowing West to ruff with the king of spades.

Declarer made only dummy's four trumps, and the contract was thus set five tricks for a loss of 1400 points. What's more, even the honors didn't count, since the hand was played in a pair tournament. This was a very expensive thrice-told tale!

Burke Convicted Of Bar Slaying

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Elmer (Trigger) Burke, 38-year-old gunman, was convicted last night of first degree murder for killing a friend in a Manhattan bar three years ago.

An all-male jury found Burke guilty after deliberating 50 minutes at the end of a 23-day trial. Although sentencing was deferred for two weeks, the verdict carries a mandatory death penalty.

BOSTON authorities, who linked Burke with the spectacular $1,210,000 Brink's hold-up in 1950, sought unsuccessfully to have him turned over to them instead of standing trial for the New York killing.

One of Burke's four court-appointed attorneys announced the murder decision would be appealed. "This was just a bar-room brawl," he said.

If the verdict stands, Burke will be sent to the Sing Sing Prison electric chair.

THE DEFENSE argued that Burke was innocent because of insanity and claimed the state failed to prove that he knew the nature of the alleged crime on July 23, 1952. On that date Burke's pal, Edward (Poochy) Walsh, 23, was shot to death.

Burke testified at the trial that he was too drunk to remember even having gone to the bar with Walsh.

The state ridiculed the insanity plea and called Walsh's death "an execution, an assassination of one member of the underworld by another, a cold-blooded assassination."

Burke betrayed no emotion as the verdict was given.

Local Synagogues Schedule Special Chanuko Services

A Chanuko service with sermon will be held at Temple Emanuel Friday, Dec. 9 according to an announcement by Herbert I. Bloom, rabbi.

A children's Chanuko party will take place on Sunday, Dec. 11 at 3 p. m. at the social hall of the Temple. A pre-confirmation class party will be held Thursday, Dec. 15 at Rabbi Bloom's home.

CHANUKO, THE Jewish holiday commemorating history's first uprising on behalf of religious liberty begins at sunset, Friday, Dec. 9 and continues for a period of eight days according to the Commission on Information About Judaism of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and the Central Conference of American Rabbis who offer the meaning and explanation of the "Feast of Lights" as follows:

"A Hebrew word meaning dedication, Chanuko recalls the chronicle of the Maccabees, fighting Jews who about 170 years before the Christian era refused to bow down to idols. Judea was then governed by a Greco-Syrian emperor, Antiochus, who sought to abolish Judaism. Resistance by the people under the leadership of a priest named Mattathias and his five sons, known as the Maccabees, resulted in a guerrilla war which ultimately brought defeat to the pagans.

"AFTER THE victory, the Jews reconsecrated the Temple which had been desecrated. According to legend, oil for the altar light, apparently enough for one day lasted for eight.

"Hence, the holiday is celebrated for eight days, with an additional candle blessed each night. The crescendo of light symbolizes the added strength which can come to those who fight for a sacred cause. The special Chanuko candelabrum is known as the Menorah.

"The holiday is marked by synagogue services, religious school plays, gift-giving, parties and a home ceremony in which lights are blessed and the festival hymn, "Rock of Ages" is sung. Gifts for the poor are also a part of the holiday observance.

Burke Convicted Of Bar Slaying

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Elmer (Trigger) Burke, 38-year-old gunman, was convicted last night of first degree murder for killing a friend in a Manhattan bar three years ago.

An all-male jury found Burke guilty after deliberating 50 minutes at the end of a 23-day trial. Although sentencing was deferred for two weeks, the verdict carries a mandatory death penalty.

BOSTON authorities, who linked Burke with the spectacular $1,210,000 Brink's hold-up in 1950, sought unsuccessfully to have him turned over to them instead of standing trial for the New York killing.

One of Burke's four court-appointed attorneys announced the murder decision would be appealed. "This was just a bar-room brawl," he said.

If the verdict stands, Burke will be sent to the Sing Sing Prison electric chair.

THE DEFENSE argued that Burke was innocent because of insanity and claimed the state failed to prove that he knew the nature of the alleged crime on July 23, 1952. On that date Burke's pal, Edward (Pochoy) Walsh, 23, was shot to death.

Burke testified at the trial that he was too drunk to remember even having gone to the bar with Walsh.

The state ridiculed the insanity plea and called Walsh's death "an execution, an assassination of one member of the underworld by another, a cold-blooded assassination."

Burke betrayed no emotion as the verdict was given.

Paltz Teachers Trim Danbury, 81-68

Godwin Leads Hawks to Victory, Scoring 18 Points Team Cops Opening Game

John Godwin turned in a sparkling performance for New Paltz State Teachers College last night.

The former Kingston High School basketball player scored 18 points, rebounded like a demon and played a great defensive game as the Hawks defeated Danbury Teachers 81-68 in their 1955-56 opener.

The six-foot-two Godwin played a fine game in the pivot post for the Orange and Blue. His point total came on seven field goals and four free throws. New Paltz got off to a flying start and led by 18 points at halftime. After the first string had built a substantial lead, Coach Loren Campbell gave his reserves a chance.

TWO FRESHMEN—John Hussnatter and Tom Murphy—started for the Hawks, and both turned in excellent jobs. Hussnatter was third in the scoring with 16 points.

Bob Miller racked up 17 and Frank Buckley 10 for the winners.

Ted Smigala scored 20 points for Danbury.

Two members of the 1954-55 All-America basketball team and San Francisco's defending NCAA champions are off to a fast start in quest of new laurels.

Furman's Darrell Floyd, the nation's most prolific scorer last season, tossed 33 points in leading the Paladins to an 86-66 Southern Conference victory over Davidson last night.

San Francisco's Bill Russell, hailed by many as one of the greatest college players in recent years, tallied only 15, but grabbed 26 rebounds as the Dons opened a bid to retain their No. 1 ranking with a 70-59 triumph over little Chico State.

The victory stretched the Dons' winning streak to 27 games since they bowed to UCLA early last season. The Dons, however, are likely to find it tougher going tonight when they meet Southern California's Trojans.

Robin Freeman of Ohio State, only other member of the Associated Press All-America still in college, makes his debut tonight against Butler, already a surprise winner over Wisconsin. LaSalle's Tom Gola and Duquesne's Dick Ricketts have graduated to the pro ranks.

Oregon State was the only other member of last season's top 10 in action last night and the Webfoot, ranked No. 10, lost to the Cardinals 61-55. The Cardinals, who won 11 members of last year's Pacific Coast Conference championship squad by bowing to Oregon 57-46.

FOR THE MOST part, the favorites came through but the night was not without its upsets.

UCLA, only team to beat San Francisco last season and headed for the ECAC holiday tournament in New York's Madison Square Garden along with the Dons, bowed to Brigham Young 75-58 with the Skyline conference five breaking loose for 23 points in a closing drive.

Montana State smashed a 27-year-old jinx by overwhelming the highly favored Wyoming Cowboys 68-59. The two teams met again tonight in Sheridan, Wyo.

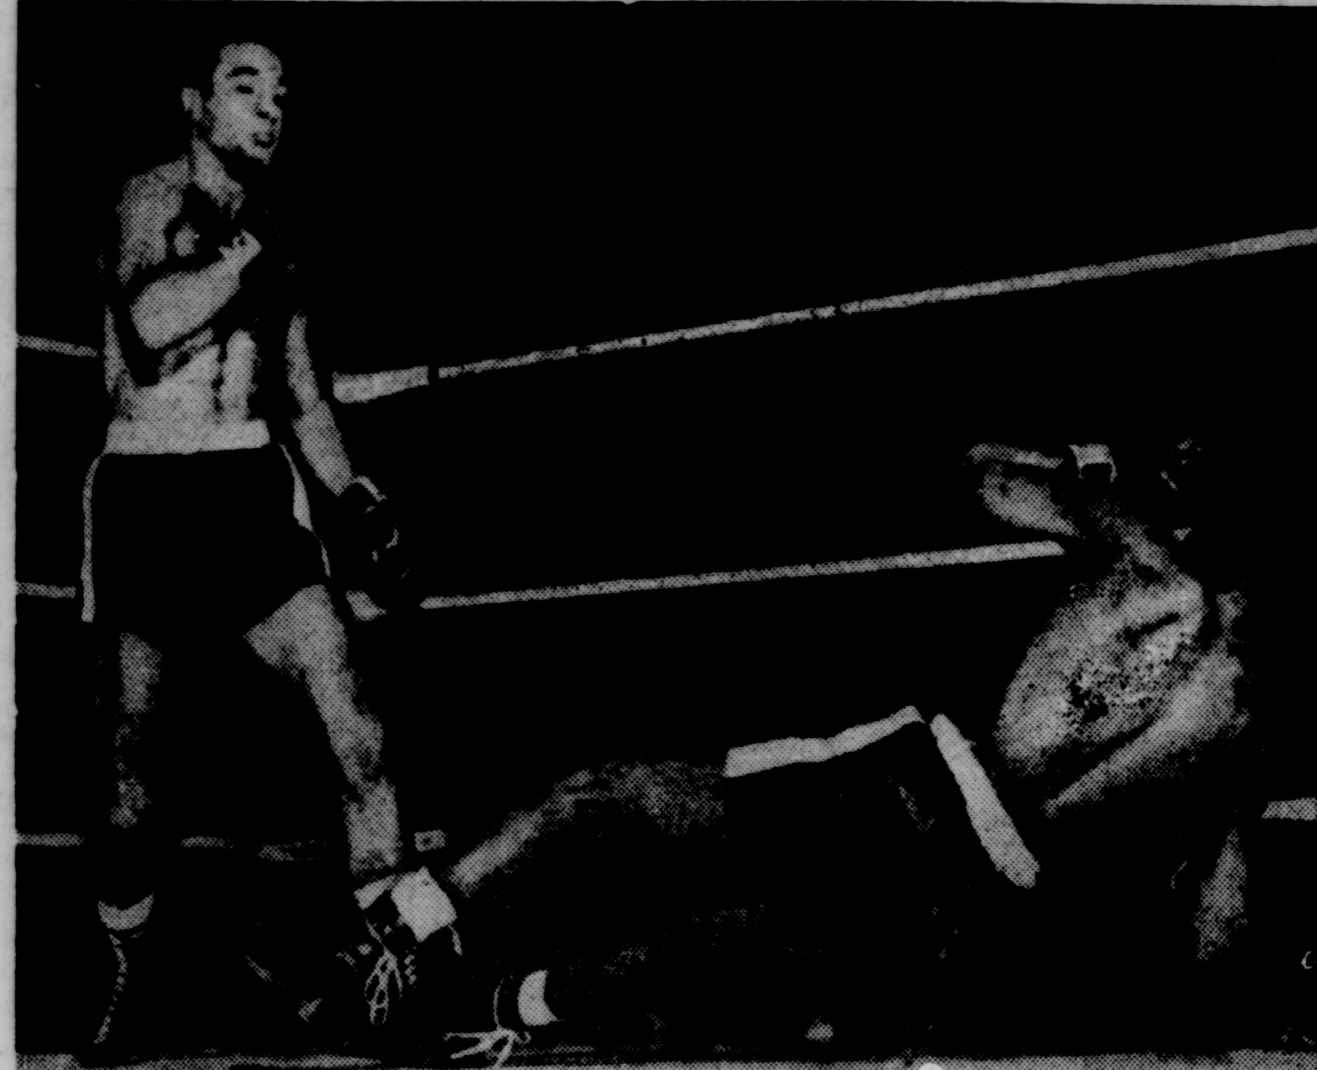

Seattle dropped a 65-59 decision to San Jose State. Stanford's Indians opened their season by upsetting Washington's towering Huskies 72-55.

MARQUETTE ROLLED over St. Norbert 89-43 without showing much of its vaunted power.

Two Atlantic Coast conference games saw Duke whip Clemson 97-63 and Maryland top Virginia 67-55 to dedicate its new $3,250,000 field house with a victory. Wake Forest, however, lost 101-86 to George Washington as Joe Holup scored 35 points for the Colonials in a roughly played game in which 54 personal fouls were called.

Students Burn Governor's Effigy In Georgia Football Controversy

Atlanta, Dec. 3 (AP)—Hundreds of excited Georgia Tech students burned Gov. Marvin Griffin in effigy in downtown Atlanta early today in protest against a racial segregation proposal which would keep the school's football team from playing the University of Pittsburgh in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 2. Reserve halfback Bobby Grier, a Negro, is on the Pitt squad.

The students, estimated by police to number 2,500, hanged a dummy labeled "Griffin" from a tree on the Tech campus, then marched the two miles to Five Points—heart of Atlanta's business district.

Another dummy was strung up to a metal street light post and ignited while the students chanted "burn him, burn him." Signs saying "down with Griffin," "Griffin boo-boos (again)," and "We play anybody" were carried in the crowd. Several other dummies were burned before daybreak.

About 500 other students staged a demonstration at the governor's mansion, several miles distant.

The Tech student demonstration lasted three hours. It broke up at about 3 a. m. (EST). Police said no attempt was made to stop the crowd's marches and that only a few of its members who had destroyed property were detained.

POLICE REPORTED that damage was minor. A few parking meters were damaged, some trash cans were rolled down streets and one window of a business establishment was broken.

The lights were out at the governor's mansion when the students arrived there. They were met by state patrolmen and city police armed with tear gas bombs and by firemen ready with water hoses.

Griffin, reached by telephone inside the mansion during the demonstrations, said that "this hasn't changed my mind at all." He also said he could not be "pressured on this thing."

He later said through his son, Sam, a Georgia Tech student: "The State of Georgia should not do business with a mob. If they want to send a representative, I'll see him. That's all I have to say."

THE DEMONSTRATIONS came a few hours after the governor urged that state schools not be allowed to engage in contests with teams with Negro players on their rosters or where segregation is not required among spectators.

In a telegram to chairman Robert O. Arnold of the Board of Regents of the University of Georgia, the governor asked for an immediate meeting of the board to act on his request.

President Blake Van Leer of Georgia Tech declined comment on the governor's telegram. Later, however, he said to John Erp, Chicago NBS sports editor, in a telephone interview: "I'm 60 years old and have never broken a contract and I'm not going to break one now."

That was an indication that Georgia Tech probably will play the game. If the Regents adopt Griffin's proposal now or later, however, it will mean a drastic curtailment of the intersectional athletic program at both Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia.

Woodstock Tilt Called

Poor traveling conditions forced the postponement and possible cancellation of last night's basketball game between the Woodstock Varsity and the Wappingers Falls Crusaders. No information was available on a rescheduled date.

Bob Nieman, outfielder for the Chicago White Sox, led the Texas League in hitting in 1951. He hit .323.

A prominent Big Ten coach on the eve of the National Football League draft: "Most of the kids come to us with the idea becoming pro players."

After Lou Groza puts his toe into the football, he spins around with his back to the charging line... to protect his leg from injury.

The best pass receiver in football is Kyle Rote, the Giant Rote... so why isn't he converted to a wingman a la Elroy Hirsch? The Giants say he can't do the blocking job on big tackles because he's not big enough—weighs a measly 195... and he can be used at four different positions because of his analytical mind grasps every man's assignment.

Ohio State's Woody Hayes' half-time comment at Army-Navy: "I'm not surprised the Cadets don't pass. They probably won't throw again today. Like us, they have no choice."

A big lineman was squiring a cute coed around the Ohio State campus when the cupcake with the saucer eyes turned her nose up to him and said, "My dad was a Phi Delt and my mother was a Kappa. What was yours?" The bruiser tossed out his chest, gave her a wink and smile and rumbled, "My dad was an Umwa-United... Mine... Workers... of America."

Three days after a delicate operation, the "Lakers" Durable Dane, Vern Mikkelsen, was romping on the basketball court and preserving a consecutive game playing streak that has now topped 350.

This season, when Otto Graham has raised more fuss with his howls about man-handling by the pros, is the same year he has carried more on options than in any of his nine previous campaigns... exposing himself to rugged gang-tackling... and at an antiquated 34... Chances are the other three old men of the original Browns—Dante Lavelli, Frank Gatski and Lou Groza still can outrun the young lineemen.

Tip from Bob Blackman of Dartmouth—his first string quarterback next fall will be Paul Brown's youngster, Mike... who migrated to Hanover not as a football player, but because his high school pals of Shaker Heights, O., went there.

A newlywed is cage center Ron Shavlik of North Carolina State—he's 6-9, she's 5-2... In the realm of giants, Utah has a freshman basketball named Pearl Pollard, who's 6-11 but just willing away his time until he can embark on his real career—the prize ring, as a Marvin Jensen protégé... A disc jockey gone straight is Pablo Ruelas Nunez, whose Wide World Broadcasting System sportscasts keep the Latin American countries up to date on Minnie and Chico and Gerardo.

Still doubt Navy thought it had a Cotton Bowl bid sewed up? Eddie Erdelatz wrote Andy Gustafson of Miami for films of its TCU game a week before the defeat by Army... Surely, there must be some way to blame Harvey Knox for the Washington coaching ruckus, too—deposed backfield coach Jim Sutherland of the Huskies was son Ronnie's high school mentor at Santa Monica and included in the package deal that sent young Knox first to California... When Ronnie left, so did Sutherland, but in a northerly direction.

Between you'n me, the coaches in the Big Ten aren't nearly as high on the Michigan State Spartans as others around the country... and wouldn't be surprised to see them overpowered by the bulgier Bruins of UCLA in the Rose Bowl.

Berra of Yankees Gains Third American League MVP Honor

Chicago, Dec. 3 (AP)—Catcher Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees today was named the American League's most valuable player for the second successive year and the third time in his career.

The honor, voted by the Baseball Writers Association of America, put the squatty Berra in a bracket with Jimmy Fox and Joe DiMaggio, the only other three-time American League winners.

Fox won the award in 1932 and 1933 with Philadelphia and in 1938 with Boston. DiMaggio was the winner in 1939, 1941 and 1947 with the Yankees.

Berra, who also was MVP in 1952 and 1954, became the tenth Yankee to win the award since it was initiated in 1931 with Bob (Lefty) Grove of Philadelphia being awarded the Kenesaw Mountain Landis trophy.

Outfielder Al Kaline of Detroit and Al Smith of Cleveland finished second and third, respectively, with Boston's Ted Williams in fourth place.

The 24-man committee named Berra on seven first-place ballots which helped him pick up 218 points. Kaline, with four firsts, had 201 points and Smith, who also had seven firsts, had 200 points.

WILLIAMS HAD 143 points and one first-place vote.

Berra, in helping the Yanks to the American League pennant, batted .272 last season, had 37 home runs and 108 runs batted in. He played in 147 games and has a .293 lifetime batting average.

The only other player to win the award in two successive years besides Fox, and now Berra, was pitcher Hal Newhouse who was named MVP with Detroit in 1944 and 1945.

Aside from Berra, Kaline and Smith, Gil McDougald of the Yankees was the only player to receive more than one first place vote.

McDougald received two first

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE Shooting Editor

Jack was mightily disconsolate.

"At that match with the Citizens Revolver Club last Saturday," he said, "I shot the worst score in two years, and that's saying plenty, because my scores have been falling off steadily for the last three seasons. I feel good, think my hand is as steady as it ever was, but I just can't see the sights any more."

His complaint is a common one among shooters over 45, pistol-toters and riflemen alike. Just can't see the sights clearly. And that's reasonable enough, since at about that stage those of us who haven't already been fitted with glasses begin to read newspapers at arms' length. We become far-sighted at just about the date when we find that three flights of stairs are a dozen steps higher than they were.

Far-sighted or not, as we move into middle age our eyes lose their power of adaptation, their flexibility of focus. In the optician's office we may still read the small XQBREFD down near the bottom of the chart for a 20/20 rating; but that doesn't mean we can still focus simultaneously on a front handgun sight perhaps 30 inches from the eye, a rear sight perhaps eight inches closer, and a target 25 or 50 yards out. Two decades ago we could keep the sights sharp and let the target blur a bit. In middle age, as in friend Jack's situation, if we get one sight sharp the other blurs into fuzz, and the target has already dissolved into a shapeless blob.

For the handgun shooter this is a real problem, in many cases one not to be solved merely by the bifocals Doc Smith fits to him. Handgun sights will be a little far out for the short-distance lenses in those specs, too close for the long lenses. Wearing a lens-mask that forces the pistoleer to look through a pinhole helps matters some, but the final solution may be only a special pair of shooting glasses, like those tailored by W. H. Belz for example, a job not done for peanuts.

The rifle shooter is in the same boat to start with, in that his aging eyes may flatly refuse to focus simultaneously on an open sight anywhere from eight to 15 inches ahead of his eye, next the front bead over two feet out, and finally the buck sneaking through brush across the valley. But for him there's easier salvation. He can be saved by the scope.

Neither special eye-glasses nor any special type of adjustment of telescopic rifle sight is called for. It will make the target clear, and show up the cross-hairs on the target sharp and black, whether you have eyes like an eagle or wear lenses half an inch thick. Focus problems are gone when the rifle glass-ware is installed.

And there's no shame in the scope. We're all growing older and likely to come to it sooner rather than later, and it's a better sight anyway, more efficient, a better guarantee of hitting what we shoot at.

Trotting Owner's License Revoked

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—State harness racing commissioner George P. Monaghan has revoked the license of Don J. Comodoro, Rochester, N. Y., owner of trotters and pacers, and expelled him for life from New York harness tracks.

Commissioner Monaghan issued his decision yesterday after a hearing requested by the 42-year-old owner. Monaghan had suspended Comodoro for an indefinite period early in November. The charge stated that Comodoro approached two drivers at the Batavia, N. Y. race track with an intent to alter the result of a race.

The commissioner disclosed that Comodoro asked Joseph S. Hodgins, 31, of Batavia, to help Comodoro's horse to win a race. Hodgins received a suspension last October for 10 days for failing immediately to report the incident of July 30.

The suspension of Charles Wingate, Westbury, N. Y., driver, also was upheld by the commissioner. Wingate was suspended Oct. 10 for the balance of the 1955 season for not fairly contesting a race at the Hamburg, N. Y., track last July.

Man Shoots Antlered Doe

Pittsburgh, Dec. 3 (AP)—Richard Bauman shot a six-point doe—that's right—during Pennsylvania's buck deer hunting season.

He escaped a fine when Dr. Kenneth Doubt, curator of mammology at Carnegie museum, certified yesterday that the antlered animal was a female—a freak of nature.

Tom Zachary Jr. batted .380 for the University of North Carolina baseball team this spring. His father is the former southpaw hurler for the Washington Senators and New York Yankees.

but finished 12th with his only other points coming on a lone fifth place vote.

The voting was based on 14 points for first place, 9 for second, 8 for third and so on.

New Paltz-Walkkill Cage Game Ends In Controversy; Harp Rims 45 Points

Ulster County Athletic League basketball officials were faced with a puzzling "Who Won?" question today following last night's contest between New Paltz Central School and Walkkill High.

The New Paltz-Walkkill game was the only one of three scheduled that was played. Two others were postponed by weather conditions that made traveling hazardous.

The Highland-at-Kerkhonsk game will be played tonight. Marlboro will play at Saugerties Tuesday afternoon.

The game at New Paltz was marked by a terrific scoring show on the part of Darrell Harp and an unusual scoring controversy that left the winner of the game still to be determined.

Harp, the Huguenots' blond center, broke the school's individual scoring record as he fired 45 points through the hoop.

HARP CONNECTED on 15 of 32 field goal attempts and converted 15 of 18 free throws. He also snatched 28 rebounds off the backboards and was credited with several assists in New Paltz scoring plays.

The total is also a UCAL varsity record.

New Paltz led all the way in the contest, but three Walkkill baskets in the final 15 seconds brought the visiting team close to its foe.

The game ended with the scoreboard and the running scores in both scorebooks reading 76-75 in New Paltz' favor. However, after both teams had left the gym and showered, the Walkkill scorer detected an apparent error in his book, finding New Paltz missing one foul shot. That made the final tally 75-76.

Under cage rules, the home team has charge of the scoreboard and time clock and the visitors keep the official scorebook.

THE OFFICIALS, Bob Magill of Poughkeepsie and Vince Leo of Newburgh, had checked the scorebook after every quarter and had found no error. Neither team called a time out during the game to check the point totals.

Magill planned today to telephone Oswald Towler, noted basketball rules interpreter of Andover, Mass. Pending a ruling, no result was listed for the game.

Pro Grid Teams Face Key Contests

(By The Associated Press)

The conference races in the National Football League approach the showdown stage tomorrow as the contending teams seek to clarify their title aspirations in the next-to-last weekend of regular season play.

In the Western Conference the Los Angeles Rams held a half game lead over the Chicago Bears, who, in turn, are a half game ahead of the Baltimore Colts. Green Bay is two games off the pace, but the Packers still have a mathematical chance to gain the title.

TOMORROW'S PAIRINGS

list Baltimore at Los Angeles, Detroit at the Chicago Bears, Green Bay at San Francisco, Cleveland at Pittsburgh, New York at Washington and the Chicago Cards at Philadelphia.

The Rams (6-3-1) can win the Western race if they defeat Baltimore (5-4-1) and the Bears (6-4) bow to Detroit. And the Eastern championship will be all over but the shouting if the Browns (7-2-1) down Pittsburgh while the Redskins (7-3) are losing to the Giants.

Worsley Shines As Rangers Win

(By The Associated Press)

Goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley's value to the New York Rangers becomes more apparent as the National Hockey League season progresses.

Last night the Chicago Black Hawks drilled 36 shots at the 26-year-old Worsley, who turned back all their thrusts but one. As a result the Rangers downed the Hawks 2-1 in the only game of the night to extend their winning string to six games. New York also moved within four points of league-leading Montreal.

Worsley has allowed the opposition only 26 goals in his last 15 games, an average of 1.73 goals. Three of the 15 games were shutouts and he gave up just one goal in seven others. In the Rangers' last six games, with New York winning four and tying two, spright goals yielded but six goals.

Credit for his impressive showing can be attributed to getting down to proper playing weight. At training camp, he showed up weighing 172 pounds, but is now a trim 162.

Andy Bathgate and Dean Prentice clicked for first period goals for the Rangers, who have won five in a row over the Hawks. Ed Sandford produced the lone marker for Chicago late in the opening stanza.

Iowa Featured

Iowa City, Iowa, Dec. 3 (AP)—Iowa, defending basketball champion of the Big Ten conference, launches its 1955 cage season today against Nebraska in a nationally televised game (CBS 3 p. m. EST).

BOWLING SCORES

Local bowlers apparently found the city's alleys as slippery as the roads last night. The evening's action failed to produce a 600-or-better individual triple.

Top scorer was Tom Martino, who clubbed a 591 in the IBM Seneca League. Martino's 226-211-154 string set a new high triple for the circuit.

Second in the Seneca circuit was Jerry Conrad, with 511. Bernie Murray hit 491, Tom Madden 459, Ed Arguevick 477, Ben Galitzky 47, B. Ligotino 469, D. McConnell 462.

Team results: Allegheny 2, Apaches 1; Cherokees 2, Blackfeet 1; Iroquois 2, Mohawks 1.

ALLEN HOEY was high man in Everybody's League, slugging 166-212-207-585. His teammate, Ben Durr, was right behind with 583. Durr's games included a 256 final smash.

Fred Schryver scored 208-576, Charlie Brooks 254-570, Ray Houghtaling 207-553, Harry Bruck 207-508, Tom Sicker 500, Chris Robinson 521, Bob Liebel 532, Bob Morris 455, Howard Wood 516, Del Pritchard 511, Harry Hines 518, Leo Stauble 544.

Also, John Guziak 451, Ed Lindhurst 484, Bernie Ferraro 453, George Houghtaling 453, Dave Adler 485, Fred Zimmerman 480, Herb Houghtaling 485, Tom Welch 453, Stan Buboltz 485, Ronnie Costello 450, John Howard 486, Jack Hartman 462, Orlando Felipe 495, Don Rice 462, Harry Rice 460.

Team results: Morgan's Rest 2, All-Stars 1; Gene's Bar and Grill 2, Amell's Rest 1; Rapp's Express 2, Kendall Oils 1; Foordmore Farms 2, Island Dock 1.

JACK SCHUEHLER led the IBM Huron League with a 510 triple, mixing 171-133-146. Ralph Sampson scored 456, Jerry Kaplan 471, Fred Luedtke 451, Marty Sior 456, Don Bogart 471.

Team results: Team Five 2, Team Two 1; Team Six 2, Team Four 1; Team One 3, Team Three 0.

BILL SCHABOT socked 192-203-185-580 to pace the Ferraro Men's Classic League.

Jerry Biggs was second with 574. Leaders included Andy Krom 201-543, Warren Wood 502, George Bouck 500, Frank Passer 523, Bob Denton 500, Jerry Oster 528, Hal Broskie 471.

Team results: Smith-Parish Roofing 2, Rock-cliff Hotel 1; Jones Dairyettes 2, Manhattan Bowling Balls 1; Sicker's Delivery 3, Park Diner 0; Cueno's Rest 2, Joe Epstein's 1; Cubock's Dairy 2, Ertel Engineering 1.

Varipapa to Miss All-Star Pin Event

Chicago, Dec. 3 (AP)—Andy Varipapa, 64-year-old veteran from Hempstead, N. Y., will miss his first all-star bowling tournament this year because of illness.

Varipapa, who has participated in the previous tournaments and chalked up unprecedented success with five victories in 1946-47, yesterday withdrew from the Dec. 10-18 tournament at the Coliseum.

Varipapa will be replaced in the all-star field by Stan Gifford, 23, formerly of Portland, Ore., but now of Chicago.

Varipapa collapsed in an appearance at Cincinnati last month and has been under a doctor's care.

Godwin Leads Hawks to Victory, Scoring 18 Points Team Cops Opening Game

John Godwin turned in a sparkling performance for New Paltz State Teachers College last night.

The former Kingston High School basketball player scored 18 points, rebounded like a demon and played a great defensive game as the Hawks defeated Danbury Teachers 81-68 in their 1955-56 opener.

The six-foot-two Godwin played a fine game in the pivot post for the Orange and Blue. His point total came on seven field goals and four free throws.

New Paltz got off to a flying start and led by 18 points at halftime. After the first string had built a substantial lead, Coach Loren Campbell gave his reserves a chance.

TWO FRESHMEN — John Hussnatter and Tom Murphy — started for the Hawks, and both turned in excellent jobs. Hussnatter was third in the scoring with 16 points.

Bob Miller racked up 17 and Frank Buckley 10 for the winners.

Ted Smigala scored 20 points for Danbury.

Top Players, Dons Sparkle In College Tilts

(By The Associated Press)

Two members of the 1954-55 All-America basketball team and San Francisco's defending NCAA champions are off to a fast start in quest of new laurels.

Furman's Darrell Floyd, the nation's most prolific scorer last season, tossed in 33 points in leading the Paladins to an 86-66 Southern Conference victory over Davidson last night.

San Francisco's Bill Russell, hailed by many as one of the greatest college players in recent years, tallied only 15, but grabbed 26 rebounds as the Dons opened a bid to retain their No. 1 ranking with a 70-39 triumph over little Chico State. The victory stretched the Dons' winning streak to 27 games since they bowed to UCLA early last season. The Dons, however, are likely to find it tougher going tonight when they meet Southern California's Trojans.

Robin Freeman of Ohio State, only other member of the Associated Press All-America still in college, made his debut tonight against Butler, already a surprise winner over Wisconsin. LaSalle's Tom Gola and Duquesne's Dick Ricketts have graduated to the pro ranks.

Oregon State was the only other member of last season's top 10 in action last night and the Webfoes, ranked No. 10, showed the loss of 11 members of last year's Pacific Coast Conference championship squad by bowing to Oregon 57-46.

FOR THE MOST PART, the favorites came through but the night was not without its upsets.

UCLA, only team to beat San Francisco last season and headed for the ECAC holiday tournament in New York's Madison Square Garden along with the Dons, bowed to Brigham Young 75-58 with the Skyline conference five breaking loose for 23 points in a closing drive.

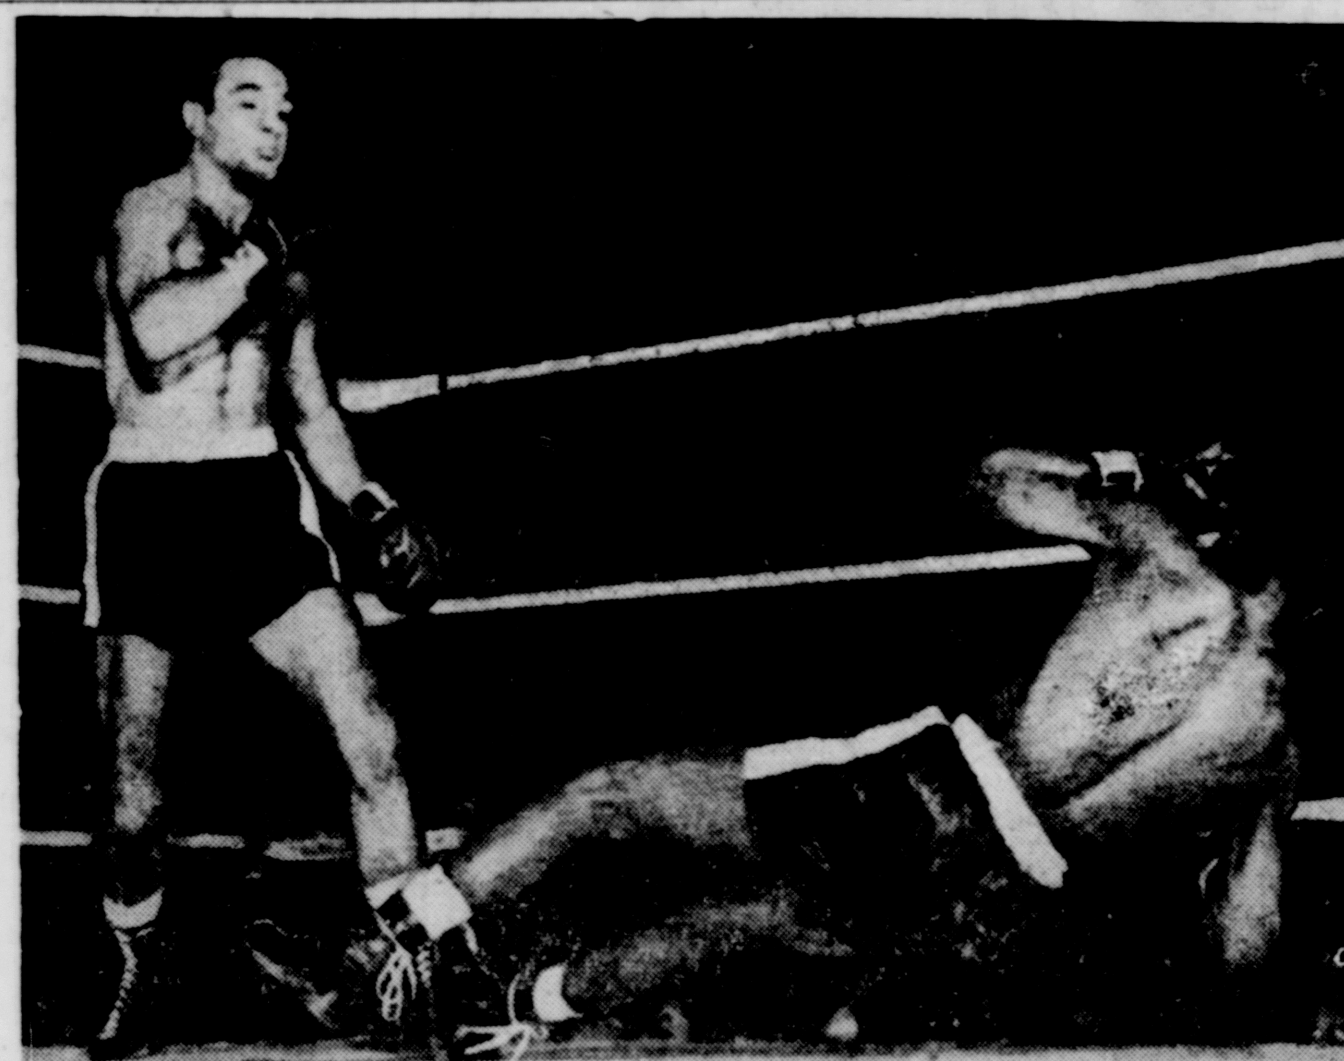

Montana State smashed a 27-year-old jinx by overwhelming the highly favored Wyoming Cowboys 68-59. The two teams meet again tonight in Sheridan, Wyo.

Seattle dropped a 65-59 decision to San Jose State. Stanford's Indians opened their season by upsetting Washington's towering Huskies 72-55.

MARQUETTE ROLLED over St. Norbert 88-43 without showing much of its vaunted power.

Two Atlantic Coast conference games saw Duke whip Clemson 97-63 and Maryland top Virginia 67-55 to dedicate its new $3,250,000 field house with a victory. Wake Forest, however, lost 101-86 to George Washington as Joe Holup scored 35 points for the Colonials in a roughly played game in which 54 personal fouls were called.

Students Burn Governor's Effigy In Georgia Football Controversy

Atlanta, Dec. 3 (AP)—Hundreds of excited Georgia Tech students burned Gov. Marvin Griffin in effigy in downtown Atlanta early today in protest against a racial segregation proposal which would keep the school's football team from playing the University of Pittsburgh in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 2. Reserve halfback Bobby Grier, a Negro, is on the Pitt squad.

The students, estimated by police to number 2,500, hanged a dummy labeled "Griffin" from a tree on the Tech campus, then marched the two miles to Five Points—heart of Atlanta's business district.

Another dummy was strung up to a metal street light post and ignited while the students chanted "burn him, burn him." Signs saying "down with Griffin," "Griffin boo-boo" (again), and "We play anybody" were carried in the crowd. Several other dummies were burned before daybreak.

About 500 other students staged a demonstration at the governor's mansion, several miles distant.

The Tech student demonstration lasted three hours. It broke up at about 3 a. m. (EST). Police said no attempt was made to stop the crowd's marches and that only a few of its members who had destroyed property were detained.

POLICE REPORTED that damage was minor. A few parking meters were damaged, some trash cans were rolled down streets and one window of a business establishment was broken.

The lights were out at the governor's mansion when the students arrived there. They were met by state patrolmen and city police armed with tear gas bombs and by firemen ready with water hoses.

After a noisy demonstration, the crowd dispersed. Police were not called on to use tear gas nor did the firemen unlimber their hoses.

Griffin, reached by telephone inside the mansion during the demonstrations, said that "this hasn't changed my mind at all." He also said he could not be "pressured on this thing."

He later said through his son, Sam, a Georgia Tech student: "The State of Georgia should not do business with a mob. If they want to send a representative, I'll see him. That's all I have to say."

THE DEMONSTRATIONS came a few hours after the governor urged that state schools not be allowed to engage in contests with teams with Negro players on their rosters or where segregation is not required among spectators.

In a telegram to chairman Robert O. Arnold of the Board of Regents of the University of Georgia, the governor asked for an immediate meeting of the board to act on his request.

President Blake Van Leer of Georgia Tech declined comment on the governor's telegram.

Later, however, he said to John E. P. Chicago NRS sports editor in a telephone interview: "I'm 60 years old and have never broken a contract and I'm not going to break one now."

That was an indication that Georgia Tech probably will play the game. If the Regents adopt Griffin's proposal now or later, however, it will mean a drastic curtailment of the intercollegiate athletic program at both Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia.

Woodstock Tilt Called

Poor traveling conditions forced the postponement and possible cancellation of last night's basketball game between the Woodstock Varsity and the Wappingers Falls Crusaders. No information was available on a rescheduled date.

Bob Nieman, outfielder for the Chicago White Sox, led the Texas League in hitting in 1951. He hit .323.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

Jack was mightily disconsolate. "At that match with the Citizens Revolver Club last Saturday," he said, "I shot the worst score in two years, and that's saying plenty, because my scores have been falling off steadily for the last three seasons. I feel good, think my hand is as steady as it ever was, but I just can't see the sights any more."

His complaint is a common one among shooters over 45, pistolers and riflemen alike. Just can't see the sights clearly. And that's reasonable enough, since at about that stage those of us who haven't already been fitted with glasses begin to read newspapers at arms' length. We become far-sighted at just about the date when we find that three flights of stairs are a dozen steps higher than they were.

Far-sighted or not, as we move into middle age our eyes lose their power of adaptation, their flexibility of focus. In the optician's office we may still read the small XQBREFD down near the bottom of the chart for a 20/20 rating; but that doesn't mean we can still focus simultaneously on a front handgun sight perhaps 30 inches from the eye, a rear sight perhaps eight inches closer, and a target 25 or 30 yards out. Two decades ago we could keep the sights sharp and let the target blur a bit. In middle age, as in friend Jack's situation, if we get one sight sharp the other blurs into fuzz, and the target has already dissolved into a shapeless blot.

For the handgun shooter this is a real problem, in many cases one not to be solved merely by the bifocals Doc Smith fits to him. Handgun sights will be a little far out for the short-distance lenses in those specs, too close for the long lenses. Wearing a lens-mask that forces the pistolster to look through a pinhole helps matters some, but the final solution may be only a special pair of shooting glasses, like those tailored by W. H. Belz for example, a job not done for peanuts.

The rifle shooter is in the same boat to start with, in that his aging eyes may flatly refuse to focus simultaneously on an open sight anywhere from eight to 15 inches ahead of his eye, next the front bead over two feet out, and finally the buck sneaking through brush across the valley. But for him there's easier salvation. He can be saved by the scope.

Neither special eye-glasses nor any special type of adjustment of telescopic rifle sight is called for. It will make the target clear, and show up the crosshairs on that target sharp and black, whether you have eyes like an eagle or wear lenses half an inch thick. Focus problems are gone when the rifle glass-ware is installed.

And there's no shame in the scope. We're all growing older and likely to come to it sooner rather than later, and it's a better thing than a more efficient, a better guarantee of hitting what we shoot at.

Pro Grid Teams Face Key Contests

(By The Associated Press)

The conference races in the National Football League approach the showdown stage tomorrow as the contending teams seek to clarify their title aspirations in the next-to-last weekend of regular season play.

In the Western Conference the Los Angeles Rams hold a half game lead over the Chicago Bears, who, in turn, are a half game ahead of the Baltimore Colts. Green Bay is two games off the pace, but the Packers still have a mathematical chance to gain the title.

Trotting Owner's License Revoked

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—State harness racing commissioner George P. Monaghan has revoked the license of Don J. Comardo, Rochester, N. Y., owner of trotters and pacers, and expelled him for life from New York harness tracks.

Commissioner Monaghan issued his decision yesterday after a hearing requested by the 42-year-old owner. Monaghan had suspended Comardo for an indefinite period early in November. The charge stated that Comardo approached two drivers at a race in Batavia, N. Y. race track with an intent to alter the result of a race.

Worsley Shines As Rangers Win

(By The Associated Press)

Goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley's value to the New York Rangers becomes more apparent as the National Hockey League season progresses.

Last night the Chicago Black Hawks drilled 36 shots at the 26-year-old Worsley, who turned back all their thrusts but one.

As a result the Rangers downed the Hawks 2-1 in the only game of the night to extend their unbeaten string to six games. New York also moved within four points of league-leading Montreal.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 3 (AP)—Richard Bauman shot a six-point doe—that's right—during Pennsylvania's buck deer hunting season.

He escaped a fine when Dr. Kenneth Douc, curator of mammology at Carnegie museum, certified yesterday that the antlered animal was a female—a freak of nature.

Tom Zachary Jr. batted .380 for the University of North Carolina baseball team this spring. His father is the former southpaw hurler for the Washington Senators and New York Yankees.

but finished 12th with his only other points coming on a lone fifth place vote.

The voting was based on 14 points for first place, 9 for second, 8 for third and so on.

New Paltz-Walkill Cage Game Ends In Controversy; Harp Rims 45 Points

Ulster County Athletic League basketball officials were faced with a puzzling "Who Won?" question today following last night's contest between New Paltz Central School and Walkill High.

The New Paltz-Walkill game was the only one of three scheduled that was played. Two others were postponed by weather conditions that made traveling hazardous.

The Highland-at-Kerkonkson game will be played tonight. Mariboro will play at Saugerties Tuesday afternoon.

The game at New Paltz was marked by a terrific scoring show on the part of Darrell Harp and an unusual scoring controversy that left the winner of the game still to be determined.

Harp, the Hugenots' blond center, broke the school's individual scoring record as he fired 45 points through the hoop.

HARP CONNECTED on 15 of 32 field goal attempts and converted 15 of 18 free throws. He also snatched 28 rebounds, the backboards and was credited with several assists in New Paltz scoring plays.

The total is also a UCAL varsity record.

New Paltz led all the way in the contest, but three Walkill baskets in the final 15 seconds brought the visiting team close to its foe.

The game ended with the scoreboard and the running scores in both scorebooks reading 76-75 in New Paltz' favor.

However, after both teams had left the gym and showered, the Walkill scorer detected an apparent error in his book, finding New Paltz missing one foul shot. That made the final tally 75-76.

Under cage rules, the home team has charge of the scoreboard and time clock and the visitors keep the official scorebook.

THE OFFICIALS, Bob Magill of Poughkeepsie and Vince Leo of Newburgh, had checked the scorebook after every quarter and had found no error. Neither team called a time out during the game to check the point totals.

Magill planned today to telephone Oswald Towler, noted basketball rules interpreter of Andover, Mass. Pending a ruling, no result was listed for the game.

BOWLING SCORES

Local bowlers apparently found the city's alleys as slippery as the roads last night. The evening's action failed to produce a 600-or-better individual triple.

Top scorer was Tom Martino, who clubbed a 591 in the IBM Seneca League. Martino's 226-211-154 string set a new high triple for the circuit.

Second in the Seneca circuit was Jerry Conrad, with 511. Bernie Murray hit 491, Tom Madden 459, Ed Arguevich 477, Ben Galitzky 47, B. Ligotino 469, D. McConnell 482.

Team results:
Alleghenys 2, Apaches 1; Cherokees 2, Blackfeet 1; Iroquois 2, Mohawks 1.

ALLEN HOEY was high man in Everybody's League, slugging 166-212-585. His teammate, Ben Durr, was right behind with 583. Durr's games included a 256 final smash.

Fred Schryver scored 208-576, Charlie Brooks 254-570, Ray Houghtaling 207-553, Harry Bruck 207-508, Tom Siskler 500, Chris Robinson 521, Bob Liebel 552, Bob Morris 545, Howard Wood 516, Del Pritchard 511, Harry Hines 518, Leo Stauble 544.

Also, John Guzik 451, Ed Lindhurst 484, Bernie Ferraro 453, George Houghtaling 453, Dave Adler 485, Fred Zimmerman 480, Herb Houghtaling 485, Tom Welch 453, Stan Buboltz 485, Ronnie Costello 450, John Howard 486, Jack Hartman 462, Orlando Felipe 495, Don Rice 462, Harry Rice 460.

Team results:
Morgan's Rest 2, All-Stars 1; Gene's Bar and Grill 2, Amell's Rest 1; Rapp's Express 2, Kendall Oaks 1; Foordmore Farms 2, Island Dock 1.

JACK SCHUEHLER led the IBM Huron League with a 510 triple, mixing 171-193-146.

Ralph Sampson scored 456, Jerry Kaplan 471, Fred Luedtke 451, Marty Sior 456, Don Bogart 471.

Team results:
Team Five 2, Team Two 1; Team Six 2, Team Four 1; Team One 3, Team Three 0.

BILL SCHABOT socked 192-203-185-580 to pace the Ferraro Men's Classic League.

Jerry Biggs was second with 574. Leaders included Andy Krom 201-543, Warren Wood 502, George Bouck 500, Frank Passer 523, Bob Denton 500, Jerry Oster 528, Hal Broskie 500.

'Big Three' Clicks For Celtics Quintet

(By The Associated Press)

The Boston Celtics' "big three" are back on the scoring beam—and that spells trouble for the other clubs in the National Basketball Association.

Easy Ed Macauley, Bill Sharman and Bob Cousy accounted for 62 points among them as they paced the Celtics to a 94-81 victory over the St. Louis Hawks last night in the only game played. The triumph was Boston's third straight and boosted the Celts into second place in the Eastern division as the New York Knicks slipped to third.

Macauley found the range for 26 points, Sherman collected 20 and Cousy contributed 16 when not setting up his mates for scores.

By HERSCHBERGER

A fashionably dressed young woman entered the post office in a large western city, hesitated a moment, and stepped up to the stamp window. The stamp clerk looked up expectantly, and she asked:

Woman—Do you sell stamps here?

Clerk—Yes (proudly).

Woman—I would like to see some, please.

The clerk dazedly handed out a large sheet of the two cent variety, which the young woman carefully examined. Pointing to one near the center, she said:

Woman—I will take this one, please.

"Hello, Dr. Bunyan? Yes? Come right away. My husband has another one of his terrible spells.

"Why didn't you send for me sooner?" said the doctor half an hour later. "You should not have waited till your husband was unconscious."

"Well," replied the wife, "as long as he had his senses, he wouldn't let me send for you."

Lady Driver (after collision)—But I insist it was my fault. Gentleman Driver—No, my dear lady, it was my fault. I could tell your car was being driven by a woman at least 300 feet away and I could easily have driven over into the field and avoided this.

Fairchild's Restaurant, in Los Angeles, boasts a "Dog Lounge" complete with "barking lot," where diners may leave their pets.—M. O. Kelley, Santa Monica, Cal.

Southern Californian (home from a vacation trip out of the state)—Ah-h-h! Doesn't the old bus ride nice, now that we've got the tires filled again with this wonderful Los Angeles air?

FUNNY BUSINESS

By HERSCHBERGER

A fashionably dressed young woman entered the post office in a large western city, hesitated a moment, and stepped up to the stamp window. The stamp clerk looked up expectantly, and she asked: Woman—Do you sell stamps here? Clerk—Yes (proudly). Woman—I would like to see some, please. The clerk dazedly handed out a large sheet of the two cent variety, which the young woman carefully examined. Pointing to one near the center, she said: Woman—I will take this one, please. "Hello, Dr. Bunyan? Yes? Come right away. My husband has another one of his terrible spells. "Why didn't you send for me sooner?" said the doctor half an hour later. "You should not have waited till your husband was unconscious." "Well," replied the wife, "as long as he had his senses, he wouldn't let me send for you."

Briefly Told

ALBANY, Dec. 3 (P)—Halsam

Products Co. of Chicago has bought the Albany Embossing Co. for an undisclosed price. Both companies manufacture toys.

William M. Thompson of suburban Loudounville, president of Albany Embossing, said yesterday that its plant facilities were not included in the sale and would be put on the market next year. The plant, which formerly employed 100 at peak seasons, has been closed since last Dec. 31.

Halsam makes plastic blocks and embossed wooden products. Albany Embossing produced wooden blocks, checkers and dominoes.

LAKE PLACID, Dec. 3 (P)—Joseph J. Shehadi, who operated oriental rug stores in Lake Placid, Syracuse and Palm Beach, Fla., died in a hospital here yesterday after a lengthy illness. He was 75.

Shehadi, a native of Zahleh, Lebanon, came to the United States in 1894.

ALBANY, Dec. 3 (P)—The state has extended to Dec. 15 the deadline for localities to file for emergency state aid to repair public facilities damaged by the August and October floods.

John W. Johnson, public works superintendent, said applications should be made through district engineers. The period had expired Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (P)—Thomas E. Dewey has called for greater recognition and higher opportunities for civil service employees.

The former New York governor suggested last night that the career service could be improved by making it possible for employees to move freely between agencies and positions and to preserve their federal pension rights if they leave government service for private industry.

Dewey addressed 1,200 attending a dinner of the National Civil Service League.

Hits Geneva Handling
New Orleans, Dec. 3 (P)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York says handling of the Geneva conference by the Republican administration resulted in a "psychological disarmament among the peoples of the free world."

Harriman addressed the New Orleans Foreign Policy Assn. last night. He said that President Eisenhower dropped the ball when he credited the Russians "with a desire for peace no less earnest than the West. His attitude gave the impression of personal trust of their peaceful intentions."

Claims Man Will

Try Moon Trips

In Near Future

Troy, N. Y., Dec. 3 (P)—A rocket expert says man will attempt flights around the moon in the near future.

Dr. Wezner von Braun declared last night that earth satellites could be adapted to carry crews. He predicted the attempt would be made after the establishment of the first earth satellites, which are scheduled to be launched in the international geophysical year, 1957-58.

von Braun, now chief of the guided missile development division at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., played an important part in Germany's World War 2 rocket program.

HE TOLD a joint meeting of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute Astrophysical Society and the Troy Astronomy Club that the first small satellites would be followed by larger ones with better equipment.

"Soon thereafter," von Braun added, "man himself will attempt orbital flight. The task of projecting a crew into an orbit amounts essentially to replacing the relatively small rockets with larger ones."

"It does not pose any fundamentally new problems," he asserted.

Lyonsville

Lyonsville, Dec. 3—Lyonsville Reformed Church, the Rev. Richard B. Coons, pastor—Services at 11:15 a. m. Last Sunday the offertory solo was rendered by Oscar Christiansen who sang, "The Heavens Resound," accompanied by Mrs. Chester Roosa, organist.

A card party was planned for Jan. 28 at the November meeting of the Lyonsville Community Club. President Richard Mahon named Clyde Roosa chairman to be assisted by Mrs. Lester Judd, Mrs. Arthur Cummings and Oscar Christiansen. The refreshment table was decorated in keeping with the Thanksgiving season by Mrs. Clyde Roosa.

Among those entertaining on Thanksgiving Day were: Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Christiansen for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Christiansen of Krumville; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cummings for his father, Clifford Cummings and friend and Mrs. Harold Cummings and son, Clifford, all from New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis for the J. E. Burgers; Mr. and Mrs. Frank De Franco for their daughters, Mrs. Paula Wentz and Mrs. John Rust and families from Fairfield, N. J.

Mrs. Chester Roosa entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Roosa and family and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Barley.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Oakley and Mrs. Tracey Barley enjoyed the company of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Oakley and their three daughters.

Mrs. Lena Smith and son, Kenneth entertained Mrs. Esther Wood and brother, Ward Christiansen.

Among those spending the holiday out of town were: Mrs. Floyd Davis who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Lyons of Krumville; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith.

Gerald and David Garman were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Barringer and father of Krumville.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hirsch of New York spent Sunday at their summer home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koziar recently entertained for several days their son, Franklyn and family from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore, who were married on Saturday are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith.

Miss Anthea Roosa of Ashokan arrived on Thanksgiving Day to spend the winter months with her cousin, Mrs. Floyd Davis.

James Hamill of West New York, N. J. spent the weekend here and entertained several friends who enjoyed deer hunting.

Mrs. Lillian Smith of Kingston spent the weekend with the Ernest Smiths.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Alexander and son of Port Ewen called Thanksgiving Day on his mother, Mrs. Chester Alexander.

Miss Wanda Roosa recently accompanied members of her French club from Kingston High School to New York City where they attended a French play and enjoyed lunch at a French restaurant.

Railroad Retirement
A representative of the Railroad Retirement Board will be at the New York Central freight station, 545 Broadway, ground floor between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 14 for the purpose of assisting the railroad worker, his wife, widow or survivors in retirement and survivor problems and answering any inquiries which they may have in connection with retirement and Railroad Unemployment Insurance Acts.

Check Two Alarms
Firemen answered two alarms early today, one a car fire and the second a false alarm. Wiltwyck station answered a call at 1:19 a. m., to extinguish a fire caused by anti-freeze which had ignited in a car operated by Kenneth Crose of Burcham Boulevard. The false alarm was received at 1:20 a. m. from Box 1444, North Front and Crown streets.

'Messiah' Rehearsal Is Scheduled Sunday
The last of two rehearsals for the performance of the "Messiah," to be given Sunday, Dec. 11, at the Old Dutch Church starting at 4 p. m., will be held tomorrow at 3 o'clock at the church.

The last rehearsal is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 10, at 7 p. m. at the church, it was announced this morning.

Saw Two Drive Off
New City, N. Y., Dec. 3 (P)—Authorities say Donald L. Theis was arrested on charges of kidnapping his boss after a golf caddy reported seeing the two drive off together last Monday. That was the day Myron Hough, 44, maintenance superintendent at Dellwood Country Club, was shot while hunting in woods at the club. Police quoted Theis as admitting that he killed Hough because he was afraid of losing his job. Hough was shot in the back of his head and was found lying face down on a trail through the woods.

Briefly Told

ALBANY, Dec. 3 (AP)—Halsam Products Co. of Chicago has bought the Albany Embossing Co. for an undisclosed price. Both companies manufacture toys.

William M. Thompson of suburban Loudonville, president of Albany Embossing, said yesterday that its plant facilities were not included in the sale and would be put on the market next year. The plant, which formerly employed 100 at peak seasons, has been closed since last Dec. 31.

Halsam makes plastic blocks and embossed wooden products. Albany Embossing produced wooden blocks, checkers and dominoes.

LAKE PLACID, Dec. 3 (AP)—Joseph J. Shehadi, who operated oriental rug stores in Lake Placid, Syracuse and Palm Beach, Fla., died in a hospital here yesterday after a lengthy illness. He was 75.

Shehadi, a native of Zahleh, Lebanon, came to the United States in 1894.

ALBANY, Dec. 3 (AP)—The state has extended to Dec. 15 the deadline for localities to file for emergency state aid to repair public facilities damaged by the August and October floods.

John W. Johnson, public works superintendent, said applications should be made through district engineers. The period had expired Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey has called for greater recognition and higher opportunities for civil service employees.

The former New York governor suggested last night that the career service could be improved by making it possible for employees to move freely between agencies and positions and to preserve their federal pension rights if they leave government service for private industry.

Dewey addressed 1,200 attending a dinner of the National Civil Service League.

Hits Geneva Handling New Orleans, Dec. 3 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York says handling of the Geneva conference by the Republican administration resulted in a "psychological disarmament among the peoples of the free world."

Harriman addressed the New Orleans Foreign Policy Assn. last night. He said that President Eisenhower dropped the ball when he credited the Russians "with a desire for peace no less earnest than the West. His attitude gave the impression of personal trust of their peaceful intentions."

Claims Man Will

Try Moon Trips In Near Future

Troy, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—A rocket expert says man will attempt flights around the moon in the near future.

Dr. Weener von Braun declared last night that earth satellites could be adapted to carry crews. He predicted the attempt would be made after the establishment of the first earth satellites, which are scheduled to be launched in the international geophysical year, 1957-58.

von Braun, now chief of the guided missile development division at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., played an important part in Germany's World War 2 rocket program.

HE TOLD a joint meeting of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Astrophysical Society and the Troy Astronomy Club that the first small satellites would be followed by larger ones with better equipment.

"Soon thereafter," von Braun added, "man himself will attempt orbital flight. The task of projecting a crew into an orbit amounts essentially to replacing the relatively small rockets with larger ones."

"It does not pose any fundamental new problems," he asserted.

Saw Two Drive Off

New City, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—Authorities say Donald L. Theis was arrested on charges of killing his boss after a golf caddy reported seeing the two drive off together last Monday. That was the day Myron Hough, 44, maintenance superintendent at Delwood Country Club, was shot while hunting in woods at the club. Police quoted Theis as admitting that he killed Hough because he was afraid of losing his job. Hough was shot in the back of his head and was found lying face down on a trail through the woods.

Two Men Injured In Solvay Blast

Solvay, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—An explosion blew out windows and injured two workmen slightly at the Solvay process division of the Allied Chemical & Dye Corp. here last night.

Morgan Redmore, company public relations officer, said a small fire resulted but was put out by the automatic sprinkler system.

He said the cause of the blast was not determined. Authorities waited until today to enter the plant because everything was covered with chemical extinguisher.

There was no estimate of the damage.

REDMORE SAID the explosion took place in a section where tests were being conducted for the production of hydrogen peroxide. It was on the ground floor of a three-story building.

Numerous windows were blown out on the ground floor Redmore said. They were of plastic, made to break easily in case of an explosion.

About 10 or 12 men were in the building at the time but only the two were in the area of the explosion.

Howard Clark Jr., 39, of Syracuse, suffered a cut chin and Russell Ratliff, 23, of Kirkville, had a cut on the right thigh. Both were treated in the plant dispensary.

Upstate Man May Be Charged in Wife's Death

Gowanda, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—A 57-year-old Jamestown man was under observation in the Gowanda State Homeopathic Hospital today and officials said they expect to charge him with first-degree murder in connection with his wife's death.

Under observation was Samuel Brunacini, 57. His wife Pauline was found strangled to death in a hotel room here yesterday.

Mrs. Brunacini was a patient at the hospital. She had been a patient there on and off for the last 20 years, hospital officials said.

Cattaraugus county Sheriff Morton L. Sigel said yesterday that Brunacini would be charged with first-degree murder on the basis of an oral statement given by Brunacini to Undersheriff Robert Mills.

District Attorney J. Raymond Page said they expected Brunacini would be charged today.

152 Routed by Fire

Des Moines, Dec. 3 (AP)—More than 100 persons, including 47 men housed at the Salvation Army center and 52 guests in a small hotel were routed early today by a fire which burned out a quarter block of brick buildings on the edge of the downtown business district. Firemen said apparently everyone in the fire area escaped unharmed.

Guests of the 25-room Olympia Hotel fled to safety although the hotel itself was not burned. The blaze burned through a section opposite the Des Moines post-office building, which was not endangered.

Detroit, Dec. 3 (AP)—Production of its 34 millionth vehicle was reported today by Chevrolet Division.

Included in the count are vehicles built in United States and Canadian plants.

The distinction of producing the milestone vehicle went to Chevrolet's Baltimore assembly plant. The vehicle was purchased by Chevrolet dealers of greater Baltimore and contributed to the city's March of Dimes campaign.

In 1912, first year of its existence, Chevrolet built 2,999 vehicles. It took 12 years to produce the first million. Contrasting with this, Chevrolet announced completion of its 32 millionth vehicle on Jan. 25, this year; the 33 millionth on June 2 and the 34 millionth on Dec. 2.

Two Men Injured In Solvay Blast

Solvay, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—An explosion blew out windows and injured two workmen slightly at the Solvay process division of the Allied Chemical & Dye Corp. here last night.

Morgan Redmore, company public relations officer, said a small fire resulted but was put out by the automatic sprinkler system. He said the cause of the blast was not determined. Authorities waited until today to enter the plant because everything was covered with chemical extinguisher. There was no estimate of the damage.

REDMORE SAID the explosion took place in a section where tests were being conducted for the production of hydrogen peroxide. It was on the ground floor of a three-story building.

Numerous windows were blown out on the ground floor, Redmore said. They were of plastic, made to break easily in case of an explosion.

About 10 or 12 men were in the building at the time but only the two were in the area of the explosion.

Howard Clark Jr., 39, of Syracuse, suffered a cut chin and Russell Ratliff, 23, of Kirkville, had a cut on the right thigh. Both were treated in the plant dispensary.

Upstate Man May Be Charged In Wife's Death

Gowanda, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—A 57-year-old Jamestown man was under observation in the Gowanda State Homeopathic Hospital today and officials said they expect to charge him with first-degree murder in connection with his wife's death.

Under observation was Samuel Brunacini, 57. His wife Pauline was found strangled to death in a hotel room here yesterday.

Mrs. Brunacini was a patient at the hospital. She had been a patient there on and off for the last 20 years, hospital officials said.

Cattaraugus county Sheriff Morton L. Sigel said yesterday that Brunacini would be charged with first-degree murder on the basis of an oral statement given by Brunacini to Undersheriff Robert Mills.

District Attorney J. Raymond Page said they expected Brunacini would be charged today.

152 Routed by Fire

Des Moines, Dec. 3 (AP)—More than 100 persons, including 47 men housed at the Salvation Army center and 52 guests in a small hotel were routed early today by a fire which burned out a quarter block of brick buildings on the edge of the downtown business district. Firemen said apparently everyone in the fire area escaped unharmed.

Guests of the 25-room Olympia Hotel fled to safety although the hotel itself was not burned. The blaze burned through a section opposite the Des Moines post-office building, which was not endangered.
